

Story of Plan F Is Told to Large Audience

Plan F will be offered to the State Board of Education as this area's plan for unification more than 100 residents of the Orinda-Moraga-Canyon area heard Tuesday night at a public hearing at Pine Grove School, Orinda.

There will be no alternate plan submitted unless the state board turns down the unification concept of Plan F or the voters do.

Next step in the unification process will take place at Stanley School, Lafayette, 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Plan F's public hearing for the "west" will discuss aspects of reorganization that would unify the Lafayette and Walnut Creek elementary districts with Acalanes, Del Valle and Las Lomas high schools.

so in an election, Dr. H. Frank Bradford told the audience, the largest one to attend a unification hearing in this county.

Bradford, assistant county superintendent of schools, conducted the two hour hearing.

After a brief introduction by Marian McAdams, one of 11 members of the county committee on unification, Bradford sailed through the rest of the meeting, answering the many questions with ease.

Residents in the audience were concerned about many things but one point bothered the majority.

Would Orinda have to pay for school construction in Moraga? Bradford told the audience that if Orinda, Moraga and Canyon unified under Plan F, the whole area would have to pay for building throughout the new district. And, he admitted, it appears that most building would be in Moraga.

J. Ross Reagan, assistant superintendent for business of the Acalanes Union High School District, said it was possible that the combined unified district tax would mean a boost over the present combined elementary and high school rates because of the anticipated needs of Moraga.

IN ANSWERING another question, Bradford pointed out that the new Orinda-Moraga-Canyon unified district would take over the obligation of paying off all state aid for construction in the three present districts.

Orinda and Canyon are not state-aided districts, but Moraga is. School districts are eligible for state aid only when they are bonded to their capacity.

However, Bradford noted that school districts would retain their identities as far as paying off bonds was concerned. Bonds against the Moraga School District would be paid off by residents of that district despite its inclusion in a new unified district.

Bradford also explained the "inside-outside" voting theory that will be in effect for the local unification election.

"If Orinda casts 50 per cent of the votes in the unification election, the ballots are counted separately as inside votes," he pointed out.

THE ISSUE must pass in Orinda in this case in order to pass at all.

"If Orinda turns down Plan F, the outside votes (Moraga and Canyon) don't matter if Orinda has cast 50 per cent of the votes," Bradford explained.

Bradford also pointed out that if the "west" half of the unification idea of Plan F is defeated at the polls and passed in the Lafayette-Walnut Creek area, the "east will unify while the west remains status quo."

He explained that the Acalanes Union High School District would then be down to two schools—Miramonte and Campolindo—and the three western elementary districts would remain the same as they are now.

It was explained that at a later date the "west" could be unified with the east after proper legal steps were taken.

The Lafayette and Walnut Creek elementary school district and the three high schools (Del Valle, Acalanes and Las Lomas) would become a unified district as a result of the election that was passed by the voter.

One resident asked if the Orinda School Board had approved Plan F and Bradford passed the question along to J. Gordon Ainsworth, president of the Orinda board who was in the audience.

Ainsworth pointed out that the board felt the total unification recommended by the Stanford Associates and the county committee (and by the Acalanes High School District Board) was too large. The people should "have their say" on the smaller or "split" aspects of Plan F, he said.

HOWEVER, he noted that the Orinda board only recommended the plan because it wanted the smaller plan presented to the people—"Not because the Orinda board was in favor of it."

Ainsworth was one of the four representatives from local school boards that "augmented" the original 11-man county committee.

He voted to approve the Plan F proposal.

Representatives from the high school district and Canyon district voted against the motion with the Moraga member absent.

The county committee voted to approve Plan F for presentation by a 8-0 margin with three members absent.

THE PLAN for total or "horizontal" unification advocated by the high school district cannot be considered until after Plan F is turned down by the state board or voters in an election.

Despite this fact, the statement by the high school trustees urging total unification of their district with the five local elementary districts was read to the audience by Alla Knudsen, a member of the Acalanes board.

Bradford pointed out again and again that Plan F was going to be offered to the state board. After the county committee had made its decision to offer Plan F, there was no turning back.

The public hearings are necessary by law.

By coming up with a plan for unification the county committee is fulfilling its obligation under law to have a plan ready before September 15, 1963, Bradford said.

Its original recommendation for complete unification of the five elementary districts along with the high school district was shelved by the county committee at the urging of the elementary boards, he said.

Eventually, unification will be necessary and local residents will continue to vote on the matter until one is accepted, Bradford pointed out.

However, he said it might be possible that the local voters will continue to turn down unification at every election.

Unification Hot Topic Elsewhere

While public hearings on Unification Plan "F" continue in the mid-county area Tuesday, 8 p.m., at Stanley Intermediate School in Lafayette, other Bay Area communities are considering the effects of successful, defeated and proposed school district unification plans.

In Martinez, where voters approved unification of elementary districts with overlapping Alameda Union High School district two weeks ago, the newly-elected unified district board of trustees will be sworn in Monday.

The new five-member board, elected at large, will not officially operate the district until July 1. They will, however, meet to prepare budgets, employ personnel and set a tax rate early this spring, according to Alameda Superintendent Thomas Turner.

"OUR PROGRAM next September, and the details of the unification process to begin in July, will depend primarily on what the new board decides to do," Turner said.

To the south, the Hayward High School District has been cut into two unified districts and one "leftover" in a recent unification election.

Both the new San Lorenzo and Hayward unified school districts will seat boards February 11, while four Castro Valley elementary and one "old district" high school will continue with the status quo.

According to staff in the office of Hayward Superintendent Dr. Lawrence Ramm, implementation of the successful unification proposals will depend primarily on the superintendents selected to administer the new districts.

THE HAYWARD system involves 26,617 students, 33 elementary, seven junior high and five high schools.

In San Lorenzo, 18,000 students will be enrolled in September.

ber in 20 elementary, four junior high and two high schools, while a third high school is under construction.

The fate of tax rates caused considerable debate in the three areas before the vote January 14. Hayward Elementary Superintendent H. Marshall Hansen predicted unification would not raise taxes except in the smaller, outlying districts of Palomares and Redwood.

Significantly, it was a no vote in Palomares, Redwood and independent districts which killed unification for Castro Valley.

Superintendent Dr. Marvin Smith of Castro Valley Elementary indicated Wednesday that, despite the no vote, there is hope for eventual unification of the remaining schools.

"UNIFICATION IN the two other districts is now accomplished; this may change the outlook here," Dr. Smith told The Sun.

While four areas pondered the results of unification votes, yet another began to talk about a plan.

The Alameda County School District Organization Committee is currently discussing possible unification of Pleasanton area schools.

While no final plan has been proposed, districts involved include Amador High, Pleasanton, Sunol Glen and Murray Elementary. The district also would include portions of San Ramon Village, territory not now in the Amador High School District, according to F. Wilken Fox, committee secretary.

"We're just in the talking stage," a Murray Elementary spokesman told The Sun Wednesday.

Other sources indicate a plan would not be ready for a vote "for at least a year." Public hearings, however, have been set for February 21 in the area.

THE INTEREST in unification, here and elsewhere, stems largely from state legislation requiring that a plan, and only a plan, for unification be submitted to the state board of education by all counties before September 15, 1963.

The Contra Costa County Schools Reorganization Committee, created by state law in 1959, must choose a plan for each area of the county.

Following public hearings, such as those this week and next, a plan will be submitted to the state for approval.

Within two years of this approval, voters must decide, in an election like those held in Martinez, Hayward and elsewhere, whether or not they want to put the plan into effect.

LAW ALSO provides that, in such an election, voters be presented with only a "yes or no" alternative on one plan. Were the plan to fail, another might be proposed in a separate election.

Plan "F" now in the public hearing stage, has the support of the county committee. It calls for creation of two unified districts to be shaped from Acalanes High School District and the elementary districts of Moraga, Canyon, Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The "western district" would be composed of Moraga, Canyon and Orinda elementarys, with Miramonte and Campolindo high schools.

To the east, Walnut Creek and Lafayette districts would merge with Del Valle, Las Lomas and Acalanes high schools.

The augmented county committee, however, representing the school boards of the Acalanes, Moraga, Canyon and Orinda districts, has voted 9-2 against submitting Plan "F" to the state, Orinda alone supporting the proposal in a vote on December 10, 1962.

ALTHOUGH THE areas and plans differ immensely, Castro Valley Superintendent Smith mentioned problems the mid-county may share.

"There was considerable confusion about unification in our area," Smith told The Sun. And he indicated that confusion alone could defeat unification plans.

Again, it was the small, outlying districts which killed unification for Castro Valley. Here, Canyon has gone on record as opposing unification.

On the controversial issue (here) of the best size of a unified district, Dr. Smith pointed out that there had never been much interest in a total unification in the Hayward area.

"A district of this size—over 50,000—is initially hard to govern," he claimed.

Incorporation -- Orinda, Gung Ho

AN EDITORIAL

As it must to all areas in our county, incorporation is coming to Orinda. And we say, the sooner Orindans look into it, the better.

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association passed a resolution Monday night that the association's board undertake a study of the feasibility of incorporation for Orinda.

This is the first step.

THE NEXT step will happen Monday night. We have little doubt that the board will adopt the committee's resolution. Then the wheels will go into motion.

The board has stated that it will not take a stand for or against incorporation until all of the facts are in. The Sun hopes that if all of the facts point to the affirmative, that the board will fight with all it has to lead the people of the community in adopting incorporation.

The same formidable foe who fought incorporation for Orinda in 1956 looms large. In that year, after a four-month study by a committee of citizens, the issue was kept from getting on the ballot by a petition signed by 50 per cent of the assessed evaluation property owners. Approximately 50 signatures were on the petition.

ANOTHER POINT of disadvantage in 1956 was that the issue was raised at the high point of hysteria concerning P.I.E. Citizens were leary of anything that smacked of urbanization.

Orindans need only look around them to see what a magnificent job the Orinda Association (and others) have done to control planning of the community.

Orinda has been blessed with such men as Richard Bartle, about to retire as chairman of the association's planning committee. Bartle has undoubtedly worn out more than one set of tires making the long trek back and forth to Martinez.

Despite eternal vigilance, there have been cases when Martinez was just too far away; and the wheels of county government too awkward, to enforce what was best for the community.

AS ORINDA grows larger (and it still is — by leaps and bounds) there will be more cases.

A possible drawback to incorporation could be the cost. The 1956 study showed an increase of 32 cents per $100 evaluation or less than five per cent. Let's look at the new facts and figures.

There are 13 other incorporated cities in our county. Lafayette is a few steps ahead of us.

SKI JACKET craze strikes Lafayette's Stanley School and this quartet of 13-year-olds is all agog that each has the same kind of garment. In fact, the jacket had been so rampant that stores at times have run out of stock. This fun group consists of (left to right) Walter Pickett, Cris Scammell, Ann Julius and Doug Leonard.

Ski Jackets, Anyone?

The greatest conformist in the world—that youthful zestful "follow-the-leader" teen-ager—is at it again.

And the lad or girl in the central county area is no different. If you've been aware of it (and who hasn't), the new craze is the nylon ski jacket. And blue, please.

The craze, according to storeowners, began last Fall and it's shown no sign of letting up.

"WE HAVEN'T at any time run out of the jackets, but we're sure come close," said one departmental manager at Capwell's Walnut Creek's Broadway Shopping Center.

The nylon ski jackets, believe it or not, were designed and made for skiing enthusiasts.

And, believe it or not, some of the kids do use them for skiing.

THE HIGH schoolers are crazy about the jackets, but so are the kids in the seventh and eighth grades.

Yesterday The Sun polled a few eighth-graders at Lafayette's Stanley School.

"Sure they're the rage but I got mine for skiing," said 13-year-old Cris Scammell, of 856 Santa Maria Way.

"I've been on skis since I was seven."

The same is true with Ann Julius, 13, of 1200 Monticello Road. "I get up into the mountains about five times a year," she said. "You can't beat these jackets."

"I TRIED to get my jacket about two weeks before Christmas but they were all sold out," was the plaintive wail of 13-year-old Walt Pickett, 1125 Hilltop Drive. "I went skiing for the first time last year. I like it."

As for Doug Leonard, 13, of 3176 Stanley Boulevard, he was more on the cynical side.

"To heck with skiing," he joshed. "I've joined the fad. This jacket is the thing, man. Even if I had to cough up about $16 for it."

How long will the nylon ski jacket craze last?

"Well," said one deep-thinking Acalanes sophomore, "give us a couple more months and we'll think up something else."

Clarence Betz Has Big Day--Receives Honors

Clarence Betz, Man of the Year for Orinda, 1962, was honored at a banquet last night at the Casa Orinda. Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce was host.

Friends and admirers gave Betz a resounding ovation as Herman Silverman, editor and publisher of The Sun, made the award.

Speaker for the event was State Senator George Miller, Jr., democrat from Richmond. Miller is a graduate of St. Mary's College.

SILVERMAN cited Betz for untiring service to the community in the 22 years which he and Mrs. Betz have lived here. Mrs. Betz beamed at her husband's side.

Jaycees' President David McCosker presided over the meeting. He paid tribute to Betz and to the other Men of the Year in Orinda.

The honorary institution was started in 1950 by The Sun.

Orinda Fire Chief Al Winsor, president of the Orinda Lions, made a presentation to Betz on behalf of the club.

Betz was interviewed at 10 p.m. Wednesday over radio station KWME.

ON BEHALF of the board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce, and the sponsors of Welcome Wagon, Mrs. Ann Pollaczek delivered a bouquet of flowers to the Betzes at their home, 12 Sunrise Hill.

"This was a small token of our appreciation for Betz's services," said Ed Amatrone, chamber president. Betz is secretary-treasurer.

4 Girls Break Curfew

Four sets of parents in Orinda and Moraga, who believed their teen-aged daughters to be home asleep Sunday morning were shocked to learn the girls had been arrested for curfew violation.

Sheriff's deputies stopped the four girls, aged 15 to 17 at 3 a.m. One of the 17-year-olds was driving her father's auto, taken without his permission, she said.

Four sailors who had been in the car left before officers could question them.

The girls were released to their custody, pending appearance in juvenile court this morning.

Resolution To Be Voted On by Board Monday Nite

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association made a resolution Monday night that the association board undertake a study of the feasibility of incorporation for Orinda.

A record crowd for a committee meeting turned out at the Orinda School auditorium. In a show of hands, only three opposed incorporation.

REVIEWING the plans for the association for 1962, President Harry Flederman said that he attributed the good attendance to the popularity of the subject of incorporation.

"I suspect that almost everyone in Orinda is for incorporation . . . It is the natural evolution . . ." said Flederman. The board will vote on the committee's resolution at its first meeting of 1963, Monday night.

Committee Chairman Charles Legge made it clear that no body of the association would take a stand until "we get all the facts."

"Purpose of a study would be to produce the facts, as a representative body of the people, so that the citizens can intelligently vote on incorporation," said Flederman. "The board would not take a stand one way or the other."

TWO PREVIOUS studies have been made on incorporation for Orinda; but it has never come before the people for a vote.

In 1954, the Coro Foundation of San Francisco made a study.

In 1956, a citizen's committee spent four months compiling a study which was in favor of incorporation. Chairmanned by Ann Pollaczek, committee members were: Mrs. Marion Baker, Richard Bartle, Clarence Betz, Edgar O. May, Kirk Miles, W. Neill Porter, Joseph Edward Prince, Dr. Leonard Roth and Frederick F. Rust.

The people were never allowed to vote on incorporation since it was blocked from appearing on a ballot in 1956. The defeat was caused by a petition of opposition signed by about 50 property owners representing 50 percent of the assessed evaluation of land within the proposed incorporation boundaries.

SEVENTY-SIX percent of the people were in favor of incorporation.

The general procedure for incorporating is as follows: make a study; report; notice of intention to conduct an election filed with county; map filed with boundary commission.

The commission or county board of supervisors determines the boundaries. A petition within in boundaries is circulated. County clerk opens hearing; findings; date set for election; nominations; election.

While the association has been holding its own for the past five or six years, Flederman stated that he hoped to go a step further in strengthening local government.

"WE HAVE nowhere begun to reach for the things that we are capable of doing. We haven't begun to tap the depth and strength of this community," he said.

With his best Bostonian accent, he spoke of the "vigor" with which the new board would approach this New Frontier for Orinda.

Some of the aims will be to strengthen communication ties and to develop the association's land in the best interests of the community. The latter goal will be complicated by the fact that Bay Area Rapid Transit District will buy the association land for its Orinda station.

Flederman pointed out that if the board votes to make the study on incorporation, it will come up with an objective report on the advantages, as well as disadvantages.

"Are the advantages worth the extra cost?" is one of the questions to be answered, he said.

Medical Office Downed

A land use permit for a medical office in a residence on Northwood Drive was unanimously denied Tuesday night by the board of adjustment of the county planning commission.

Dr. Carl W. Smith, who has practiced medicine and lived in Orinda for over 13 years, applied to establish his medical office in a home at 9 Northwood Drive.

PRESENT OWNER is Mrs. Alta Junge. The house is located next to Cappel, Perra and Reid, Inc., advertising agency, 1 Northwood Drive. The backyard borders on Black Market's parking lot and McIntyre's service station.

Dr. Smith expressed amazement at the board's decision.

"The only objection was the traffic and a few cars an hour wouldn't present a hazard," Dr. Smith said. "This wouldn't increase the congested parking on Northwood Drive since there is adequate parking on the property itself."

DR. SMITH had not decided yesterday whether or not he would appeal the decision.

It was rendered at a closed hearing. The planners made a field trip to the site Friday.

Appearing in protest at the January 3 public hearing were: Harry Flederman, president of the Orinda Association; George Knudsen and James B. Turner, residents of 20 and 17 Northwood Drive, respectively.

They said that the site was a residential area and no businesses should be allowed.

Suburbia Scribblings

Wit's End . . .

TRY TO BE funny when KABL is cloying away w/its love affair w/San Francisco, the old cat "Providence" is purring on the hearth, the oak log is simmering on its side, the moon is due soon like a slim wedge of Winken, Blinken & Nod's story-book boat! Sleepy I feel, or sentimental, or slap-happy, but funny?

WIT'S END: Have you ever helped a child ready for a part in a school play? Around here, even the Baby knows the script for Don Jesse's planned "Bessie, the bandit's beautiful baby" and/or "Curses on my fatal beauty" to be given in the spring at Pine Grove School . . . & if they need an understudy for ANY of the parts, I mean, if everybody should suddenly come down w/Mumps, well, I know exactly SIX people who could fill the billings.

THEN it comes to lunches! After the bag lunches were put up tonight, there were wails of "Oh, Spaghetti tomorrow!" Which means they'll buy their lunch instead. This is their favorite hot school lunch & incidentally, Mom, the school cooks pack a peck of vegetables into this meal, (Ah, HAH!) Mincing up the vitamins so mincingly that not even a vegetable-despiser can detect them in the tasty spaghetti. But don't tell the kids!

WIT'S END: Poet Harold Witt, who is a rarity in this country, being a full-time poet, has come up w/a teaser of a title for his Feb. 13 talk w/Friends of the Orinda Library. He'll call his morning poetry chat—"All Roses Aren't Red".

One more Wit's End: Pine Grove Teach Eugene Whitt is on the mend after flinging himself down the alley w/the bowling ball. I thought those embarrassing accidents only happened to novice bowlers like me, but, you see, every once in awhile, even an old pro hits the flo'.
SENILE THOUGHT: Aren't bowling balls heavier than they used to be—are there TWICE as many pins—and tell me truly, aren't the alleys getting longer?

WORST SIDE STORY: It's only one woman's opinion, but I can't help feeling that no matter how many awards West Side Story wins, it still won't win any friends for us when it's shown throughout the world. That veil of beautiful Bernstein music didn't bury a very disparaging message. Since the movie became such a hit, so-called "rumbles" are considered real stylish & smart w/the Young Set. I find it revolting to jest so light-heartedly about switch-blade knives, minority groups, undisciplined emotions, etc. Romeo & Juliet, Baloney!!

Personalized Plates . . .

Dr. Charles Van Dune & his Tinita won't have any trouble memorizing their new license plates. It just happens that Charles stepped out of the bank line a minute, stepped back in again & was handed two prize numbers—AZG 39, AZG40. Easy to Remember, alphabet-wise, plus the couple's current respective ages.

Tinita's father, Lovick Borden Pearce went to considerably more trouble to get his California tags personalized. He learned that his name letters—LBP would be coming up at the Manteca Motor Vehicles Dept. so he drove up there, gauged just about WHEN his exact initials would come due, & if he fulfilled his wishes, was there that day to step into line at the precise moment the ages of he & his wife were ready for registry.

Artist Blanche Brody catching me on my 2 PM return home from the newspaper office commented "You're the only one I know who can go to The SUN & back by 2 o'clock" . . . Not bad, considering she was under the influenza of aspirin, etc.

SHADES of the Old "William Tell." The SF-imported Sauerkraut Band which will play a Weiner-Schnitzel, Auf Weidesehn variety of music for the coming Bavarian bash, the Alpine Antics at Miramonte Sat. Jackie Archer & Betty Pilgrim will do the cooking honors at a co-party they'll host w/their husbands & more for the merrier time are Vinnie Gilbert & Fran Yedidia who'll double up for dinner-party duties as well as Mary Green & Jean Hillis not to mention Patty Johnson, Carole Leland, Helen Davis & Jane Donlon who are also bidding parents, teachers & neighbors to a Swiss-styled Smorgasbord.

BETTY PILGRIM will be pleased as Punch if you'd like to join the hostess ranks. You can reach her at CL. 4-4751 for further info. Jean Vicars is tkt. chairman (CL. 4-0751) & hopes for a sell-out at $5. per couple. $2.50 single.

TIME & TIDE: The Jay Meyers' daughter Denise, a Pine Grove 8th grader, got a surprise call from Sacramento recent day. The Young Man said "Hello, Denise Meyer. I want you to know I found your message to call." Denise was all at sea until he explained further. He had found a bottle in Carmel that contained the message she'd written & put inside when she tossed it to the whitecaps during a wknd. at Bolinas Bay. The young man had plunked her message from its container in Carmel, carried it home to Sacramento & followed through w/positive action. Proving if you throw a bottle into the bay, you might get hit on the head by one when you're surf-swimming some day. We can't all expect phone calls from Sacto!

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE: Squaw Valley scenery right here in Lucky's Parking Lot: Dorothy Grassi dressed for the numbing weather in a fox-collared & cuffed parka, VERY elegant, quilted blue all over w/sleek grey stretch pants & a pr. of fur-lined boots. Cute! Et tu, Brute?

Meanwhile, over on the grassy green knolls, the golfing ladies out in their long-red woollens mit mittens & miens to match & you could have skied down the front slopes of the Frank Brush's house, it was still that iced-over last week.

THAT'S THE WAY the wind blows: Civic Affairs recommended last Monday night that a new survey be made re: Incorporation & it's all to your own interest to attend next Mon. meet of the Orinda Association on the same subject, 8 PM, Orinda School Auditorium. Incorporation is the only Rx to cure our growing pains & since our town still has a long way to go (grow), why suffer more needless surgery! Let's incorporate, not amputate! Which is simply a nicer word than butcher—which is what's happening—Ouch!

World Series Film to Be Shown Here Twice

Orinda baseball fans will have an opportunity to see the 1962 World Series this week-end.

Two showings of the sensational games will be sponsored by the Pine Grove Parents Club. Although there will be no admission charge, the "hat will be passed" to benefit the turling of Pine Grove athletic field, according to Bob Hendrickson, president of the parents club.

First showing of the film will be at the Pine Grove School auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. All Pine Grove students, families and friends are invited.

SECOND SHOWING will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Orinda Theater.

Mrs. Edith Scatena, general chairman of the project, announces that the showing of the film and selling of tickets for an April 6 drawing will be a major means of raising funds for the field. Winner will receive two box seats for 57 scheduled Giant games during the '63 season.

"Thanks to money pledged by members of the Parents Club, the campaign is already two-thirds of the way toward the total," said Mrs. Scatena.

Plans for a sprinkling system is now being prepared in hopes that work on the field can begin in March. "If so it is possible that the field will be ready for use in May," said Hendrickson.

Miramonte Is Cited By Cal

Miramonte High School this week received a special award of merit from the University of California. The award is based on the collective first-semester scholarship of Miramonte's graduates who entered the University of California.

The University of California Board of Admissions and Relations with Schools announced this third receipt of the award by Miramonte. It was given after computing the consistently good scholarship records of freshmen from the Orinda High School who entered the University in the three-year period 1959-60, 1960-61, and 1961-62.

MIRAMONTE'S distinction is rated in the University's Division I category for schools that have had more than 100 entrants achieve admission to the University of California in the past three years.

Principal James Lewis of Miramonte noted that as long as Miramonte has been eligible for the award with its graduating classes, it has won it.

Lewis accredited the continuing high level performance of Miramonte graduates at the University "to the excellent academic attitude developed during high school years by students while at the high school and the fine teaching job consistently performed by the school's instructional staff."

Announcement of Miramonte's receipt of the award was made this week by Dr. Frank L. Kidner, University of California dean of educational relations.

A formal presentation of an award certificate is anticipated later in the spring of this school year.

T-Bones Denied S setback Requests

Second request by William B. Bray (owner of T-Bones) was denied Tuesday night by the board of adjustment of the county planning commission.

January 16, Bray requested elimination of setbacks on two sites in two separate requests. The request to eliminate the setback for a retail building adjacent to Orinda Motors in the village was denied that night.

A LETTER from the public works department protested the proposed request. The department said that to eliminate the setback entirely at that corner, Orinda Way and Avenida de Orinda, would cause a sight distance problem.

Hearing closed on Bray's other request, to eliminate setback for single family residence in the Oak Springs area.

The board visited the site. It is located on an unimproved private road on the north side of Wildwood Road, immediately north of Springs Road intersection.

At the closed hearing Tuesday, the board unanimously voted to deny the request and uphold existing setback restrictions.

Hats Off To...

The Rev. A. E. Syverud, Lutheran Welfare Head

A VERY Happy New Year, or a Godt Nyttar as they say in Norwegian to Reverend Alfred E. Syverud, executive director of Lutheran Welfare Service of Northern California.

Head of the social missions project of the Lutheran Church for the past seven and one-half years, Pastor Syverud directs myriad activities. The main areas of service are family counseling, chaplaincy work, Lutheran Lay Visitation Service (in which wife Genevieve is a volunteer, visiting nursing homes and rest homes throughout her local area), Lutheran World Relief Service (for which 123,000 pounds of clothing were collected in 1962) and lastly, immigration. In the latter service, Pastor Syverud is currently busy resettling Chinese families from Hong Kong. In the year '62, 4400 people from all over the world were resettled in our country through Lutheran Immigration Service.

SYVERUD GRADUATED from St. Olaf's College, Northfield, Minnesota, in 1932 with a business degree, was a member of the Blue Key Society and Iota Chi Sigma, honor fraternity. He started his theology studies at Luther Theology Seminary in St. Paul from which he graduated to pastorates in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Born in Mt. Horeb, Wisconsin of Norwegian parents, Pastor Syverud practically grew up on skis and earned himself a reputation among the best Scandinavian ski jumpers. His main hobby is his work with people, and when he has time for it, golf his favorite sport. Wife Genevieve is director of the choir at Bethany Lutheran Church in Berkeley and met her husband while majoring in music at St. Olaf's.

Following in her parents' footsteps is daughter Barbara, now studying speech therapy at the same college, while son Stephen, who was married in December, will graduate from S. F. State in February with his B.A. in music and continued studies for his M.A.

For work in helping your fellow man throughout the world, a very Godt Nyttar, Pastor Syverud!

Mrs. Sturch Is On Program

Mrs. Sharon Sturch, children's librarian at the Orinda Branch Library, was one of four Bay Area children's librarians on the program of the annual Institute of Children's Librarians of Northern California held January 12 in Palo Alto.

This year's institute was a "Storytelling Festival" with demonstrations of the art of storytelling as a means of introducing fine literature to children.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Frances Clarke Sayers, professor of children's literature, UCLA School of Library Science. Mrs. Elizabeth Lockhart, coordinator of children's services in the county library system, and several staff members from the Central Pleasant Hill Library and branch libraries attended the all day institute.

'In the Shadows'

THE IMAGERY conjured up by the word "creek" was a big factor in locating the multi-million dollar Rossmore Leisure World in Walnut Creek. So successful were developers in advertising their previous project at Seal Beach, that this time they wanted to wax lyrical about living along a rambling "creek."

No interest in pleasant hill-life? WE THINK YOU SHOULD KNOW about your child's behavior. That's the kind of letters the sheriff's office will send to parents of juveniles whose conduct has been less than exemplary.

Sheriff Walter F. Young inaugurated a new policy last week of mailing out letters in cases where his deputies believe parents should have knowledge of situations not serious enough to warrant arrest or citations.

Describing it as a "preventive measure designed to assist parents," the sheriff said letters will relate any contact made with juveniles during late hours, at unusual places, in company with older persons, with persons who have been drinking, or riding in speeding cars.

And remember, kids, tampering with the mails is a federal offense!

STANDING FIRMLY behind their slogan, "There's Magic for You in a New Hairdo," hairdressers of Mt. Diablo Unit No. 51 will perform a little legerdemain next month at the County Hospital and Juvenile Hall.

During National Beauty Salon Week, February 10 through 16, stylists from beauty salons from Orinda to Pittsburg will converge upon the two institutions armed with perm rods, scissors, clips and neutralizers to give a lift to the morale of inmates.

ANYONE FOR savings or a loan? Might be a little difficult getting those services at the new Citizens Savings and Loan office in Pleasant Hill during the first week in February.

Because, while ladies from the Terrace Tea Room in Walnut Creek are serving cookies and coffee (continually, all week), the Diablo Art Association will hold an exhibit February 1, and Barbara Gilson, Pleasant Hill artist, will be on hand rendering free quick sketches of people.

On February 4, the Pleasant Hill Garden Club will enter flower pots in hand, to exhibit floral arrangements.

Before the last ker-choo has been sounded, on February 6, models from units of the Diablo Therapy Center will be slithering by in a fashion show staged by the neighboring Montgomery Ward store.

And all the while, smiling hostesses will be distributing copies of Sunset Magazine's booklet, "Patio Fun," and a street map of central Contra Costa County.

Go ahead and top that, you three-and-a-half-percent interest banks! ANYONE FROM OAKLAND? The new board chairman of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra Association is Lafayette's Edgar F. Kaiser, New symphony president is Philip D. Bush of Orinda.

About Kaiser, the West's top industrialist, you know. But did you know that Bush, a member of the Orinda school board, whose father was president of the San Francisco Board of Education, once had the nickname of "Flea." Probably because Bush, a former Stanford tennis champion, had a service that was as hard to hit as a flea.

ONLY FOR THE LONELY was the music broadcast over the loudspeaker at the Rexall Drugs in Walnut Creek. Tunes floating over the empty parking lot and down Locust Street one early a.m. this week were "I Didn't Know What Time It Was" and "All By Myself"...

IT'S NOT HARD to install the new 1963 license plates, as this mid-county resident demonstrates. The new chrome-yellow on black plates are available at many banks, AAA offices and the Department of Motor Vehicles office in Walnut Creek. Sun photo by Bob Yost

IT'S GETTING THEM which may take some time for persons who have waited until today to pick up their '63 plates. Registration must be completed before February 4 in order to avoid late fees and possible arrest. Sun photo by Robert Dulas

Get Your Plates!

If you don't pick up your 1963 license plates today or tomorrow, you will have one devil of a time getting them before the February 4 deadline.

Once that deadline is past, the driver of an unregistered auto faces severe penalties—even if he gets his license late.

These are the candid opinions of Frank Cuzillo, State Department of Motor Vehicles manager in Walnut Creek.

By today the Walnut Creek office, which serves the entire mid-county area, is expected to have handed out well over 25,000 of the plates to local car owners.

"But we expect, with regrets, a last-minute rush at the end of the month," Cuzillo told The Sun.

In order to save their own time, owners are urged to stop at any one of many local banks or the DMV office, 1275 Pine Street, Walnut Creek, during the next few days.

The office in Walnut Creek will have special 8 a.m. to 12 noon hours tomorrow and February 2. Regular hours are 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Once the new chrome-yellow on black plates are obtained, the task is over for the next 10 years, the department has announced.

Manufactured by the State Department of Corrections at Folsom State Prison (where one convict recently stamped out an all-letter plate reading YOU BUM), the '63 plates are of heavier metal than formerly used.

The plates you discard this month were released in 1958, and, though expected to last only five years, have remained intact for seven. In the same year, annual stickers were introduced as an economy measure which is expected to resume next year.

Fees for new registration and the accompanying plates run from a minimum of $9 to hundreds of dollars for some commercial vehicles.

And all motor vehicles, from motor scooters to bulldozers, must be registered, Cuzillo said. "State law defines a motor vehicle as any vehicle not propelled by human power or on steel rails," he explained.

The Walnut Creek office expects to distribute over 35,000 of the plates before the deadline February 4. "We've been processing about 1200 registrations each day," the local manager said.

About 15 per cent of the new registrants have had to go through extra procedures at the office for lack of the state-issued IBM registration form.

"We've also processed several non-resident registrations, which represent about two per cent of the total," he said.

Stiff penalties, both bureaucratic and judicial, face those who fail to register before the deadline. Late-filing charges will be made after February 4, in various amounts depending upon the cost of registration.

And, with the color change, few non-registered vehicles will escape the eyes of law officers.

Courts commonly impose fines on both "corrected" and "non-corrected" violations of the registration code.

And, Cuzillo noted, the case is not cleared until the vehicle has been registered.

Personal checks are being accepted for the new plates. They should be made out to the Department of Motor Vehicles, for the amount of the registration fee.

While vehicle registration is the primary project at the department offices until February 4, all other services are still available. Road tests, which can be taken without appointment, drivers license applications and written tests are all being provided for as usual.

Trial, Waldie's Bill Threaten Transit District

Rapid Transit is losing $2 million a month in added inflation costs caused by delay attendant on the pending taxpayers' suit.

And the Waldie Bill to exempt eastern Contra Costa County from construction costs of the system will kill the entire transit program if it passes the legislature.

These were the statements released by District President Adrien J. Falk following a meeting of the BARTD board of directors yesterday.

A delay of six months is expected during trials which the district will press for immediately, legal counsel Wallace L. Kaapke said.

If delays continue, transit officials said, there is a chance the district could lose $100 million by losing out on the Grove-Shafter Freeway route now being engineered by the state.

"When the public knows what its actual effects are, the bill will fail," one spokesman said.

The Waldie Bill is not actually feared by district directors, officials told The Sun yesterday.

Assemblyman Jerome Waldie's bill to exempt the eastern end of Contra Costa County from payment of construction costs of the district was introduced in the State Assembly Tuesday.

SUPERIOR COURT Judge Martin Rothenberg had effectively paved the way for a trial on at least three charges brought in a taxpayers' suit.

Waldie's bill did not include other areas in the county which will not receive direct service from the system now planned, such as Danville, Alamo, San Ramon, Martinez and Crockett.

Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen of District II said yesterday he had not had time to study the bill and could not say whether or not he would endorse the measure.

The assemblyman had indicated he would ask the board of supervisors to support his measure and to recommend, individually, other areas which might be exempted from the tax.

Nielsen told The Sun that there had been no formal request as yet for such action.

"Until such time as the board of supervisors or other governing bodies in these areas have indicated a desire that they be included within the definition of AB 327, I shall leave the bill as presently drafted," he said.

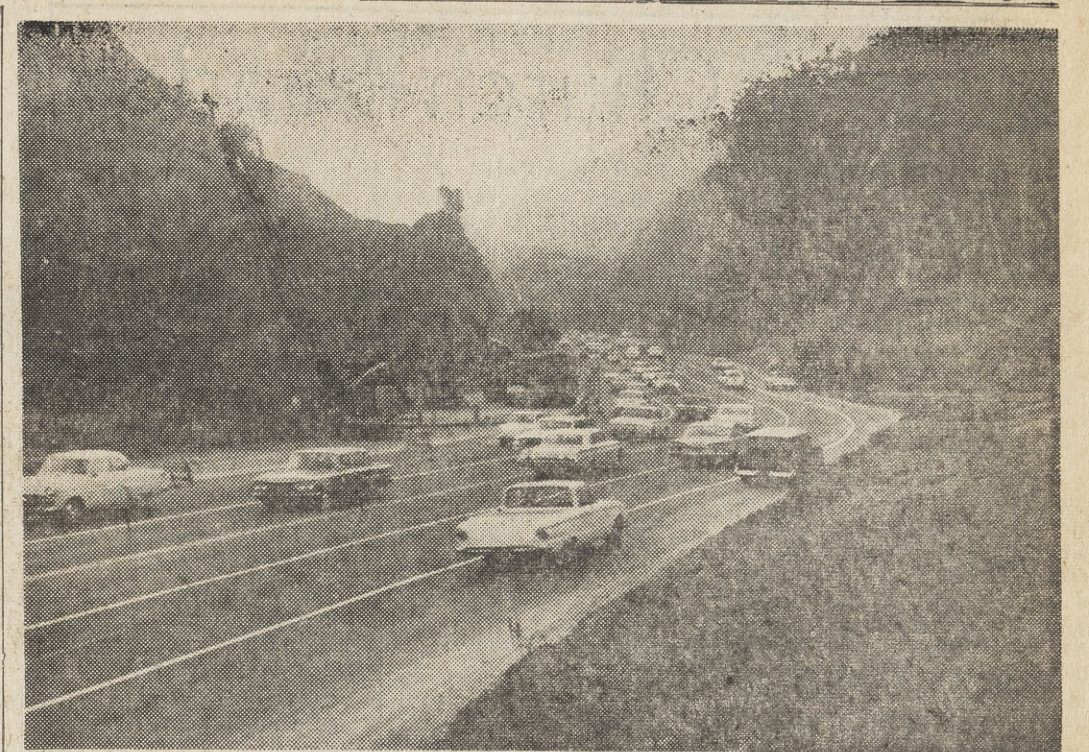

The failure of Judge Rothenberg to dismiss all of the charges brought against the district, as defense attorneys had asked, represents a more serious and immediate problem for the district.

THE JUDGE dismissed allegations charging:

1. That the legislative act creating the district was invalid.
2. That the $792 million bond issue involved is illegal because it exceeds 15 per cent of assessed valuation.
3. That sample ballots sent out prior to the election were misleading and therefore invalid.
4. That contracts with the engineering firms are illegal.

BUT THERE is possibility of trial on the remaining charges:

1. That the election is invalid because public funds were used to influence voters.
2. That firms misrepresented methods of computing fees and thus rendered the engineering contracts invalid.
3. That payment of salary to the district's publicity director, B. R. Stokes, was illegal.

NEITHER KINK NOR BULGE, the snake, latest Highway 24 joy-ride, opened this week. The new detour, part of construction on the eastern Caldecott Tunnel approach, should be removed by the early part of February. Sun photo by Robert Dulas

Snake, Kink and Bulge: New Plans

After weeks of delay and in decision, the "snake" is here at last. On the other hand, there is hope of easing the "kink" and bending the "bulge" within a month.

Few but an ardent army of commuters who daily fight their way through detour-ridden Highway 24 to Caldecott Tunnel are expected to recognize the names of these formidable obstacles.

The snake, first announced as about to open on November 30, 1962, is a tight 500-foot radius curve to the north on the highway, about midway between the tunnel and the Orinda turnoff.

INSTALLED THIS week, the snake will divert traffic while an 84-inch drainage pipe is laid beneath the roadway in three phases.

Crews began laying the pipe on the south side of the roadway this week. Next week, eastbound traffic will go back to the original route but westbound traffic will continue through its side of the snake while pipe is laid in the center of the roadway.

"Sometime next month" all traffic will be restored to the former route, according to state resident engineer Fred Campbell.

THE BULGE, which connects directly with the snake on the west, has been in effect since October of last year.

Together the two detours form a sharp S-curve whose hazards brought California Highway Patrol Captain E. M. Jelich to an on-site conference with engineers Wednesday.

Engineers will take the "belly" out of the S-curve, Jelich told The Sun. Campbell revealed that approval for straightening the curve was received Wednesday, and that work would begin immediately.

The project, which involves both a hillside cut and filling a large hole on the north side of the highway, should be completed within "a week or two."

ASKED WHAT other measures are being taken to reduce a marked increase in accidents first reported by The Sun last month, Jelich said he has assigned five patrolmen to the beat to cut down speeding.

The bad accidents generally do not occur during peak hours when traffic necessarily slows down, Jelich pointed out.

"But at other times, particularly during the evening, there is considerable speeding and carelessness," the captain said. Constant changes in the road way make night driving all the more hazardous, he added.

ONE CHANGE which motorists will be happy to see is a promised easing of the "kink," oldest of the existing detours. At the eastern end of the construction project, the kink sends motorists headon towards opposing traffic in a controlled version of the delinquent's game of "chicken."

Engineer Campbell said Wednesday that the entrance to the kink would be straightened "in about a month" by reconstructing an outside eastbound lane lost during the October storm.

The pavement will be restriped, Campbell said, and traffic fed into the long last detour on an easier curve.

The jog to the right for eastbound traffic at the Orinda end of the detour will remain for some time, however, the engineer cautioned.

Work on retaining walls in this section of the project must be completed before any road changes can be made, he said.

Go to Church Sunday

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

The golden text is from Psalms (43:2,3): "Thou art the God of my strength: . . . O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles."

Readings will include this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p.174): "The thunder of Sinai and the Sermon on the Mount are pursuing and will overtake the ages, rebuking in their course all error and proclaiming the kingdom of heaven on earth. Truth is revealed. It needs only to be practiced."

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda.

COMMUNITY BAPTIST

Jay Rae of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. morning worship at the Moraga Hills Community Baptist Church Sunday. Sunday school will be at 9:45 a.m.

Activities for the coming week are: 9:30 a.m., Bible study; Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., prayer meeting; Wednesday, 8:30 p.m., choir practice; Wednesday, and 4 p.m., junior choir, Friday.

First all-church retreat is being held from Friday evening through Sunday at Pineroff. About 45 members are planning to attend.

The church is on Moraga Road, north of Rheem Center. It is affiliated with the American Baptist Convention. Rev. Jack Sondericker is the pastor.

LUTHERAN

"Our Most Important Job" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson at our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1635 Carol Lane, Lafayette at 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

The congregation provides two sections of church school.

The first, at 9:30 a.m., has individual classes for all ages from three years including two adult classes. Simultaneous with the second service, a second session is provided for the convenience of parents with children from three years old through the third grade.

PRESBYTERIAN

"Where Are We Going?" will be the sermon topic for Dr. Ronald T. White, pastor of the Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church, for the 11 o'clock service in the old Moraga School.

There will be reception of new members. Following the worship service, there will be an annual congregational meeting.

Church school is held at 11 o'clock in the school. Junior high fellowship meets at the same time at the manse.

SUBURBAN BIBLE

At the 11 o'clock worship service of the Suburban Bible Church of Lafayette, the Rev. Gray Lambert will deliver the morning message on the theme "Abundant Life." Soloist at the 11 o'clock service will be David R. Flagg of Orinda.

The deacons of the church, Douglas Freebe, Clark Dennis, Harold Steves and David Flagg, will make a special presentation to the pastor on behalf of the church family.

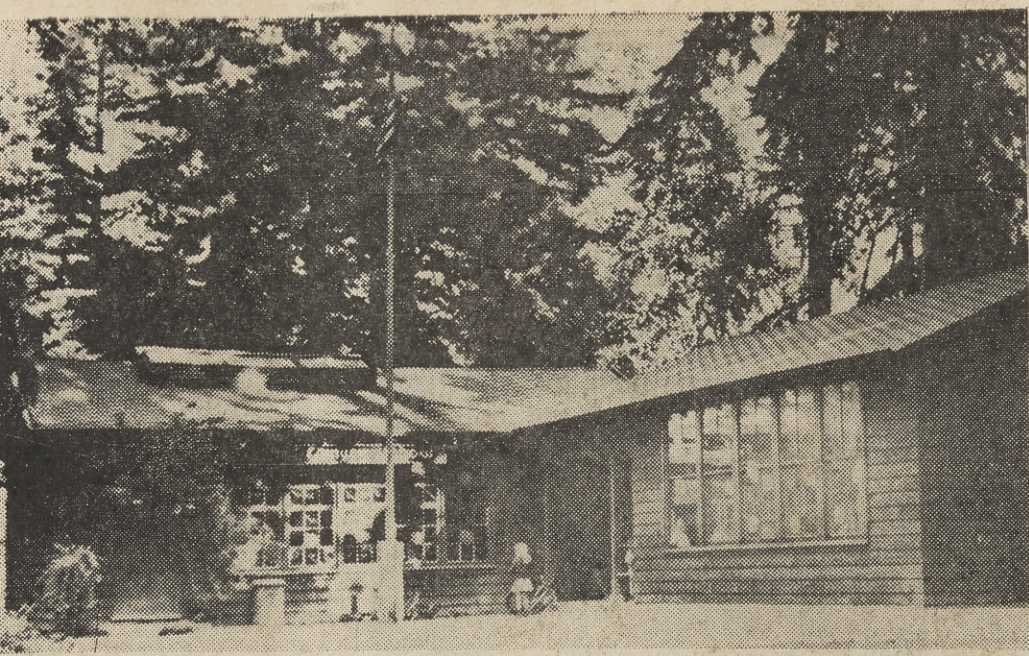

State President Of Methodist Women to Speak

St. Mark's Methodist Church of Orinda will be addressed Sunday at the 11 a.m. service by the president of the state's Woman's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Russell Scothorn of Castro Valley.

Mrs. Scothorn, who heads the state's 28,000-member society, will speak about the world-wide mission of the church.

CANYON SCHOOL — one of 15,000 one and two-room schoolhouses in U.S.

'Unique—Not Antique'

By GLADYS SHALLY

"It'll be unification without representation," declared a Canyon resident.

The reference was to the proposed school unification, in which Canyon would represent only about one per cent of the total population in the new district.

No one is happy about the proposal, including Canyon School's principal, Ruby Ruth Beers, teacher of the four primary grades, and Charles Wiles, teacher of the upper grade room.

MRS. BEERS stated that no one is against progress and unification as a whole—PROVIDING Canyon School can be retained. She repeated: "I would like to see the school continue as long as we can keep our present average daily attendance of 35."

Parents contend that the school may be unique, but it is not antique.

There is mutual respect between teachers and pupils, teaching methods are on a par with other schools and Canyon School has a high rating in the county school office for the excellence of teaching methods.

Spanish has been part of the upper-grade curriculum for four years. In the primary room, Johnny can really read—in books above his grade level.

Canyon School opened in 1918 under the name "Valle Vista" (after her sister - community then located where Upper San Leandro reservoir now is). There was one teacher, 18 pupils—and seven books.

The deed reads that should school operation cease, the land reverts to grantee (now East Bay Municipal Utility District).

SOME YEARS ago Moraga, with a then smaller ADA, but larger school house sought to consolidate with Canyon, but was repulsed with a vehement "NO."

An late as 1954, Moraga had 38 pupils. Canyon 36. There were four Moraga graduates that year, while Canyon had eight. Today, Moraga has 650 students.

Mrs. Beers hears many objections to unification from Canyon parents.

One wailed "It will be like 'liberating' our children from the school they love."

Mostly they ask: "With a very good school available right here in our own community, why should our small children have to travel miles by bus to receive instruction in over-crowded class rooms, with half-day sessions?"

Mrs. Beers treats the children as individuals, with individual needs. In the some 13 years as a Canyon School teacher she feels she has laid the foundation for many good citizens.

Principal Beers has a long recommended that the seventh and eighth graders should attend a larger school where they could obtain departmental instruction, and thus would be better prepared for high school work.

She further suggests that Canyon School continue to operate as a primary school, with the addition of a kindergarten. She feels that "the therapeutic value of our setting here would greatly aid the very young in making the adjustment to school life."

ONE INDIVIDUAL came up with the impractical suggestion that the little red school house in the redwood grove should be maintained as an historical monument to a bit of vanishing Americana — an unregimented school where a handicap rather than a bell, summons pupils into the classroom.

There are those who think it might not be such an impractical suggestion, at that. There are only 15,000 one and two-room school houses left in the United States.

Mrs. Worswick Closes Store--Starts Teaching

Mrs. Elizabeth Worswick started to teach Spanish at Orinda's Inland Valley Intermediate School Monday.

Tomorrow, she will shut the doors for the last time at the store which she operated for 12 years in La Fiesta Square, Lafayette.

Mrs. Worswick opened Shoe Time Shopping in the square in 1951. In 1954, she opened Fiesta Fashions next door. Two years ago, she combined both of the stores to "Benedict's."

TEACHING HAS always been her first love, and Mrs. Worswick starts her new career with vigor and dedication. She is devoted to the idea that the world needs more teachers.

"Teaching is the one profession I know of that can be a real contribution to a better and more peaceful life in this world," said Mrs. Worswick.

Mrs. Worswick received her bachelor of arts degree at the University of California, Berkeley in 1928. Her major was Spanish; minor, social studies.

She did graduate work last year in the school of education at U.C. She also received a certificate from Centro de Estudios Historicos in Madrid.

Basketball Hoop-de-doo . . .

TONIGHT AT 7 p.m. at Miramonte High School gym will be a benefit basketball extravaganza for the March of Dimes. Tickets are only 50 cents per adult and kids under 12 are admitted free. So Mom, shop for some TV dinners and take the whole family to the basketball game.

Co-chairmen Anita Marini and Fire Chief Baitx promise a wing-ding of a game between two Miramonte intramural teams. Captains are Ron Winkler and Bob Young. Other players will be Craig Hidy, Bill Summers, Bill Easterly, Herb Nonhoff, John Cook, Craig Hunter, Clark Thompson, Bruce Baldwin, Mark Skinner, Mark and Barry Dauphine, Roger Baldwin, Bob Maryin, Bruce Thomas and Mike Parent.

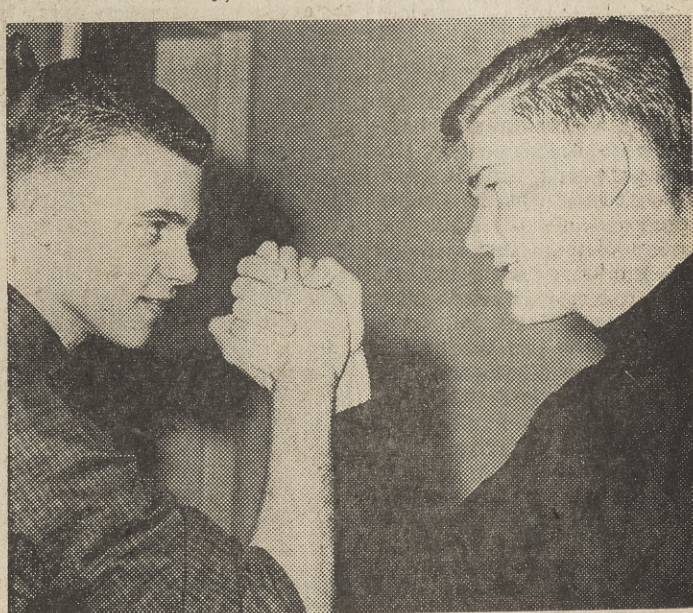

Chief Baitx has promised that some old Dads will suit up and perform during half time. Amongst the group perchance will be a man off-described as "the scrawniest (if best) fire chief in the county." This alone should be worth the price of admission.

Anita Marini, who has been working diligently as Moraga-Rheem head of the 1963 March of Dimes Drive, has pulled a real coup. Instead of a Mothers' March Tuesday night in Moraga, she has declared it "Tonight I Am a Mother" night. So when old Dad rings your bell, have your dimes and dollars ready.

Like the Miramonte Mirror girls say: "See you at the game tonight."

LIVING IT UP. Daphne and Jack Taylor will taroot from the posh Mountain Shadow resort in Scottsdale, Ariz. to the posh Tropicana in Las Vegas. They left Wednesday for the Cal Western States Life Insurance Company convention which starts Sunday. Then on to the company's Million Dollar Council in Vegas.

MORAGA NEWCOMERS CLUB will have a coffee Wednesday 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. L. Workinger, 19 Hetfield Place. Anyone interested in the group is invited. For further facts, call Mrs. R. W. Avery, 376-4173 or Mrs. Vincent Keilman, 376-4803.

BASKETBALL EXTRAVAGANZA captains Ron Winkler (left) and Bob Young try some fierce Indian wrestling before their big game tonight at 8 p.m. at Miramonte High School gym. Whichever of the intra-mural teams win—the March of Dimes will be ahead. It will receive all benefits from the 50-cent tickets. Sun photo by Bob Yost Another group for new residents is the Orinda-Moraga Welcome Wagon Club. For further info on this club, call Mrs. Charles Kinghorn, 376-4121 or Mrs. Thomas Phillips, 376-5308.

CHARTER NIGHT for Moraga Lions Club was a smasher at the Barn Monday night. The delectable Fleuti banquet was in honor of these charter members, still active in the club: Wayne Dalzell, Dick Erving, Clarence Evans, Art Fleuti, Al Baitx, Tom Carroll, John Sanders, Bill McElhinney, John de Guarda, Jack Neldam, Ray Devin, Bob McGuire. Another charter no longer in the area, Jud Hammond, was a guest. President deGuarda paid homage to the charters, who include three past presidents and the current head man.

Wayne Dalzell is in charge of the dinner February 9 at Spenglers. Moraga Lions are selling tickets for six dollars each. "This includes dinner, dancing, and a crack at valuable gifts and prizes," says Bert Bennett, co-chairman.

Ed Hicks will head student speakers' night February 18. Zone winners will compete at finals at St. Mary's this year with Moraga as host.

RHEEM TEERACE, our county's "most beguiling" (BEGUILING?) condominium opened this week end. A goodly crowd turned out to see "the newest concept of carefree home ownership."

Cold weather is still news in the valley. The hills are reluctant to take off their brown fur coat — but a pale green dress is starting to show.

The County Board of Supervisors approved, January 8, traffic order 977 which establishes load limit pursuant to section 35706 of California Vehicle Code on Donald Drive, west of Moraga, Rheem . . . It says in the soops' bulletin. So until the new bridge goes in, there is a 10-ton restriction restriction. Mothers with station wagons going to Rheem School, better weigh in.

STILL USED for storage of planes and by some operators is this older section of Buchanan Field. Tidewater's Avon refinery storage tanks may be seen in the background.

BENEATH THE PROP of this light plane stands the Federal Aviation Authority control tower, erected in 1956. New development, including a motel and possibly a heliport, is planned to the right of the tower.

Bright Skies Over Buchanan: The 'Loser' Booms

By WALT WRIGHT

A 100-room motel.
A $250,000 airplane service facility.

A $100,000 charter service and sales office.

A short-range omni-directional radio landing aid.

A heliport providing service to Oakland and San Francisco.

These are some of the projects either completed already, soon to be completed or under discussion for Buchanan Field, the county airport which made headlines a few weeks ago because it was "losing money."

Only last week the Board of Supervisors accepted as complete a $158,500 expansion of landing and parking areas at the field, and an $18,000 auto parking lot.

On February 5 the county will call for bids for additional field and parking lighting, extension of a water line, a new stretch of taxiway and airport security fencing: total cost, to be shared by the Federal Aviation Authority, $97,500.

ARE PRIVATE FIRMS and public agencies throwing good money after bad?

No one connected with the booming facility seems to think so.

Although the field "lost" $46,000 last year, bringing an accumulated deficit to over $380,000, plans and development continue.

"Our deficit during the last year can be regarded as an investment," The Sun was told last week by R. D. "Scotty" Broatch, deputy public works director.

The major part of the loss consisted of funds used for development of leases on the field, Broatch explained.

AND THE SO-CALLED deficit on the field is in many ways a misleading term. "To my knowledge, we're the only county agency which provides a profit and loss statement," airport manager Marvin Scott said.

"We're not a business, but a county service, more in the line of a public utility," he added.

And, as one operator on the field put it, "Loss? Imagine the loss there was on county roads this year."

The redefinition of terms is not enough to explain the enthusiasm — and the money — floating around the area bounded by Concord Avenue on the south and Arnold Industrial Highway to the north.

A FEW FACTS bolster this enthusiasm:

In 1962, 127,850 airplanes used the field, more than a ten percent increase over the previous year.

During the past six months, an average of 400 planes have used the field each day, and a majority of the traffic is generated by over 200 planes permanently based at Buchanan.

Buchanan is the closest fog-free airport to San Francisco, and one of the few "one-stop" fields in Northern California.

The field is the seventh most active visual flying rules airport in the Western United States.

These are some of the reasons, for example, why Signal Development Company will spend an estimated $1,500,000 on a motel on Concord Avenue. The 100-room unit will be leased from Signal by Jim Stockman, operator of the Edgewater Inn, according to Stockman's office.

PLANS FOR the motel call for four banquet rooms which will seat a total of over 800, in addition to a coffee shop with a capacity of 80 persons.

The facts in part also explain why Patterson Aircraft has just sunk around $250,000 in service facilities. Patterson's buildings, almost complete, house flight training, service, air taxi and car rental facilities, and are located in the burgeoning southeast section of the field.

Planning a move to the same area, and to be located adjacent to the motel, is Pacific States Aviation, the field's only new plane dealer and a charter service.

A 50-year contract for two and one-half acres of land is expected to be signed with the county next week, according to Warren Bogges, head of the firm.

BOGGES, the leading Cesna dealer in Northern California and Nevada, says business flying is primary cause for his increased sales and charters on the field.

"The week end flyer spends about as much as he did in the forties," Bogges told The Sun this week. "But business is turning more and more to chartered air transportation or to purchase of their own planes," he said.

Bogges' analysis of the market, supported by most operators on the field, points up one of Buchanan's greatest values to the county.

INDUSTRY invariably looks at airport facilities when considering new plant sites, assistant airport manager Ralph Bradley maintains.

Among the firms using the field regularly in recent months: Sears Roebuck and Company, U. S. Steel, Columbia Steel, Continental Can and Aerojet.

"And experts predict that, by 1970, one out of 30 major firms will own its own aircraft," Bradley points out.

To cope with the increased traffic and to upgrade the field, the Federal Aviation Authority is considering installation of new short-range radio landing aids.

Barney Hill, FAA tower chief at Buchanan stressed that the installation would require considerable study, but that it might take place within the year, subject to FAA approval.

THE DEVICE will keep the field open even on those relatively few days when visibility is poor," Hill explained.

The FAA tower, on the field since 1956, now provides radio contact with flyers 16 hours a day.

While the newer section of the airport is located on recently named John Glenn Road, it is not the impact of the space-age on the average citizen which is stimulating growth.

Still, the week end flyer is not discounted at Buchanan. Andy Traverso, operator of General Air Service, flight training school, reports that the cost of flying has stayed below general inflation since World War II.

"This means that when the nation-wide economy is good, we can expect increased interest in our lessons," Traverso said. Training for a private license can run as low as $500, depending primarily on the type of training plane used.

PLANNED helicopter service to Oakland and San Francisco indicates that the long-range air traveler in Contra Costa is also being considered in new developments.

While Buchanan Field's master plan indicates a heliport, the field is only one of many sites being considered for the service by San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines.

"Plans call for service to the mid-county area within perhaps three or four months," SFO Treasurer Ernest Bishop told The Sun Tuesday. The first-class service proposed would be to the two metropolitan airports.

Bishop said, and would follow a regular schedule.

"There is still question as to the exact location—or locations—of the heliports," Bishop said, but indicated that all the central county area would be served.

"We definitely plan to come out there soon," he emphasized.

THE COUNTY'S booming "loser" was built on 407 acres of land purchased by the county in 1941 for $88,734. Two runways, taxiways and a parking apron were constructed at that time for an army base.

The field was leased in 1943-45

TIMOTHY MANSELL

Funeral services are being held today in Watertown, Massachusetts, for Timothy Mansell, 81, of that city, who died in Pleasant Hill Monday while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Rose Hupman, of 503 Masefield Drive, Pleasant Hill.

Mr. Mansell, a native of Ireland, had been a guard for the Goodrich Rubber Company for 40 years prior to his retirement. In addition to Mrs. Hupman, he is survived by two other daughters, in Watertown, and a son, Tom Mansell, of San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Oak Park Chapel in Pleasant Hill, and a requiem mass will be said this morning at St. Theresa's Catholic Church in Watertown.

ROBERT S. JAMES

Memorial services were held in Orinda last week for Robert S. James of 147 Fiesta Circle, Orinda, who died suddenly last Saturday. He was 48.

The Rev. John Dodson officiated with interment at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Francisco.

James, a native of Pennsylvania, was a member of the Orinda Rotary Club, Orinda Masonic Lodge No. 704, and the Contra Costa Chapter.

Survivors include his wife, Sara, and two sons, Stuart and Douglas, all of Orinda, his parents, two sisters and a brother.

The Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette, handled funeral arrangements.

ALLAN JONES

Funeral services were held January 14 for Mr. Allan G. Jones, 79, who died January 10 at his Alamo home after long illness.

Mr. Jones, a widely known western electrical industry executive, is survived by his widow, the former Mildred Cameron of San Francisco, and two daughters, Mrs. Donald Ellis, 11 St. Stephens Drive, Orinda, and Mrs. Howard Leggett, 7 Columbia Circle, Berkeley, and six grandchildren.

The Joneses celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1962.

Private services were held at Hull's Funeral Home in Walnut Creek.

JAMES A. TURNER

Funeral services were held today in Wheaton, Illinois, for James A. Turner, whose son, James B. Turner, resides at 60 Northwood Drive, Orinda.

Turner died suddenly last Saturday while visiting at the home of his son. He was 77.

The Lafayette mortuary of Chapel in the Valley helped with funeral arrangements.

'My Babysitting Days Are Over'—Tom Flores

By TERRY HANSEN

"Now that I'm rid of this lung infection, I can stop this baby-sitting, find a job and get in shape for the next football season."

Tom Flores, kept out of Oakland Raider football action this past year by illness, was talking in the living room of his in-law's modest home at 8 Meadow Court, Orinda—just across the line from Lafayette.

His 10-month-old twin sons, Mark and Scott, gurgled happily among their play equipment on the floor.

His PRETTY brunette wife, Barbara, sat at the edge of the fireplace, a soft drink in her hand.

"The doctor told me last July I had this lung infection and that I wouldn't be able to play this season for the Raiders. He even went a step further. Without saying so, he indicated that my football career might be completely through."

"I'm no extrovert, but there sure was never any doubt in my mind that I would get well, and be back playing football."

Mrs. Flores, a fourth grade teacher at the Donald Rheem School in Moraga, nodded. "Tom's like that," she agreed. "When he makes up his mind to do something, he does it."

IN THE kitchen of the pink-framed home, Flores' father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.

Squire Fridell, were busy washing dishes. The noon meal had just been concluded.

"When the doctor finally told me that my lung infection had cleared up, I started to get back into shape," Flores, a smooth-throwing quarterback, said. "Today I'll play basketball, ride the bicycle for a while and then do some running. July, when the training season starts, isn't too far off."

Will the Oakland Raiders stay in the East Bay, Flores was asked.

"OF COURSE," he snapped back. "Wayne Valley, the president, has said we'll stay. And what he says he means. He wants a smooth-functioning outfit, and he's going to get it."

For a moment Flores (pronounced just the way it sounds) discussed the current DRIVE label—which stands for Damn Right I'm for Vicotry in the Eastbay.

"The team is really behind it," he offered. "Everyone is appearing at all kinds of functions, telling what we hope can happen to the Raiders next year. I'm due to go out to El Cerrito next week and give a talk myself."

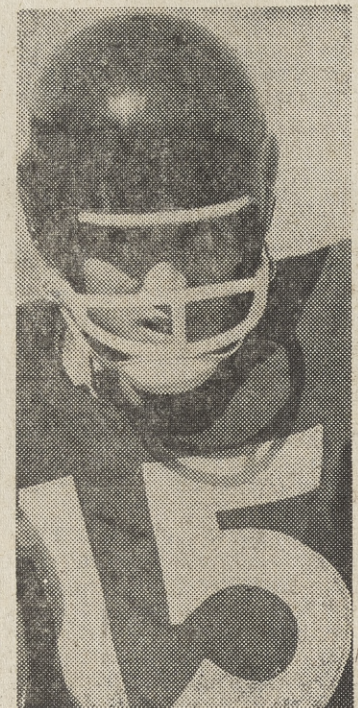

Of Frank Youell Field in Oakland, he commented, "We should have had it right from the start. It was no good traveling across the Bay to play Raider games in San Francisco."

"But it's a perfect field and I'm anxious to get back playing on it."

MRS. FLORES, whom the quarterback met while he was starring at the College of Pacific, moved across the room to get some coffee.

Her husband watched her for a moment and then swung back to the interview. "Most everyone I've talked to is red-hot for the Raiders," he said. "If one-half of them buy tickets, we'll be in good shape."

Flores, a native of the Fresno

TOM FLORES In Working Clothes

area, is 25 years old now and he's had a good start in professional football. After he left COP in 1957 he tried out with the Calgary Stampeders in the Canadian League but, failing to make the grade, returned to school. He'd suffered a bad shoulder separation and after trying out with the Washington Redskins in the National Football League he was "almost ready to give up playing football."

BUT IN the spring of 1960—after he'd received his teaching credentials from college—Flores was summoned by the Oakland Raiders. Eddie Erdelatz was the coach at the time and when Flores reported for training there were 14 quarterbacks in camp.

Flores survived the cut-backs and was named to the starting

ALSO ANXIOUS for her husband's return to football is Tom Flores' pretty wife, Barbara, fourth grade teacher at the Donald Rheem School in Moraga. Here she watches two of her young charges point out global areas. Asked if she worries when her husband is on the field, she answered, "Of course I do. Those other players can hit him so hard."

Gary Rose Leaves for Tourney

Gary Rose, 17, Orinda tennis star, left last week to play in the Cup of Nations Tournament to be held in Mexico City next week.

Gary, a Miramonte High School senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Rose, 20 Loma Linda Court, Orinda.

He was elected by the United States Lawn Tennis Association to represent the U.S. in the tourney. The only other representative of the U.S. will be Jackie Cooper of Florida.

The two young men will play doubles and singles. They will be chaperoned by a coach.

The U.S. players are arriving a few days prior to the tourney in order to become accustomed to the elevation of 7400 feet.

Roger Bond Is Named to Post

Roger Bond of Orinda was recently named traffic representative to T.I.M.E. Freight, Inc., Oakland terminal. Terminal manager Jack Ross made the announcement.

Bond was assigned to the East Oakland-San Leandro area.

Bond is a specialist in the traffic field. He acted as district traffic manager for a north-south motor carrier and as traffic manager for another transportation company. He is a member of the Oakland Traffic Club. He resides at 120 Las Vegas Road with his wife, Marilyn, and their three children.

team. He had a good year in 1960 and in 1961 outshone every quarterback in the AFL except George Blanda of Houston.

Now he's ready again for action.

"I guess the quarterback I admire the most in football is Y. A. Tittle of the Giants," Flores said. "I had lunch with him last spring and he's a wonderful guy. He never stops learning. And when he jumps up and down in his enthusiasm after a touchdown, well that's the kind of guy he is."

OF THE Raiders' forthcoming campaign, Flores is optimistic over the team's chances to make vast improvements over the dismal 1962 record.

He said, "We've got spirit—the guys never threw in the towel, good draft choices that have already been signed up, and we've got speed. Dallas, San Diego and Buffalo are going to be rough. But the only way we can go is up."

And will he be the starting quarterback?

Flores flashed a grin and sipped at his coffee.

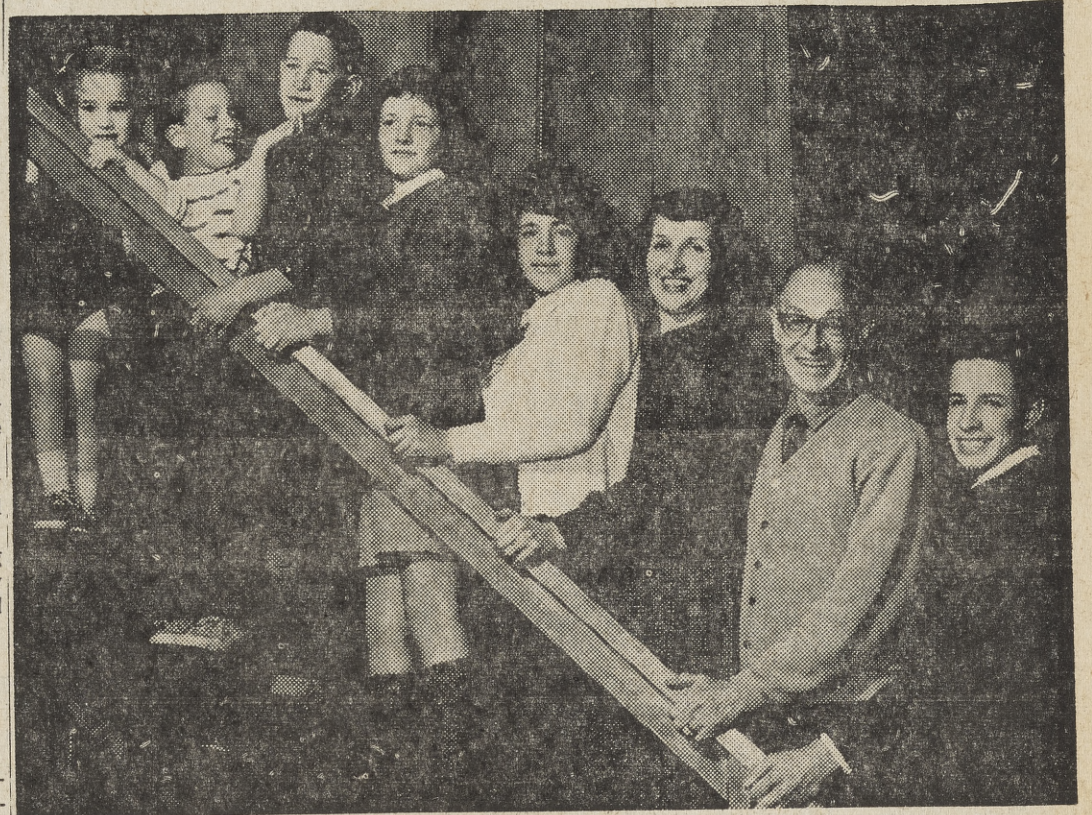

"We'll have to wait and see, but I think I've got a good chance. At least I'm going to give it everything I got."

RAIDER General Manager Wes Fry is optimistic over Flores' chance.

"We're extremely pleased for Tom that his health is now completely restored," he said. "We are, of course, looking forward to seeing him back in there next season and feel very confident he will contribute substantially to a fine future for himself and the team."

"He was our regular quarterback for two years and he'll be ready to go next year, helping us to build a cohesive unit."

Family of the Week

'All Together Now, Smile'

PHOTOGRAPHER Martin White turns his talents to his own family for this week's request from The SUN, but that's what it takes, according to Mrs. W., "somethin' goffical to get all of us together."

Camera set on his subjects, Martin made a quick leap into position and presto! A picture worthy of any publication.

If you've ever tried to take a family pix of a middle-sized brood, you can well imagine the problems of posing a passel of youngsters together like the ones above who belong to one of Orinda's best-known families.

BOTH NATIVE Clevelanders, Maude confesses to "catching Martin on a ketch" when both were on a sailing trip together.

He schooled at Western Reserve in Cleveland. She graduated from Vassar as an economics major.

The close camaraderie of a good camera, a god subject and a keen-eyed photographer got its start as a hobby during Martin's college years.

Since then he has covered every phase of photography and has now gained prominence as a portrait photographer as well as in the commercial, advertising and architectural field.

Some of suburbia's sweetest subjects have been preserved for posterity by the click of his camera and his name is stamped on many a wedding album where he's feelingly captured "the big day" and candidly caught the cake-eaters and rice-throwers in action.

The Whites moved West from Ohio when Martin was appointed social industrial secretary of Northern California region of American Friends Service Committee.

Both Martin and Maude, besides bringing up their sizable family, are active participants in many school and civic activities.

She's a past president of the East Bay Vassar Club and helped to form the Seven-College Council of the East Bay (the alumnae of seven eastern women's colleges that sponsors the annual Christmas Showcase for scholarship funds.)

Martin is a former board member of the Glorietta Parents' Club. Maude's current interests are with the Orinda Council for Civic Unity of which she is vice-chairman.

MUSIC PLAYS a large part in family life at 134 Meadow View judging from the assortment of instruments to be found around the house—bass, viola, violin, etc. Maude reaps much enjoyment and appreciation from music and was helpful in starting the orchestras at Miramonte as well as Campolindo.

Model airplanes, camping, picnicking and lots of good relaxed fun are this happy family's special hobbies.

The children, in stepping stone order, are: Greg, almost 15; Katherine, 13; Beth, 12; John, 10; Thomas, 5; and Winnifred, 3.

The only improvement we could make on the Orinda photographer's family portrait would be to print the paper in technicolor.

Waldie's Transit Proposal: No!

Assemblyman Jerome Waldie's proposal to set up a special tax district for the areas of Contra Costa County not served directly by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District must be termed illogical at this time.

Although residents of the eastern end of this county would be pleased by such a district which would lower the rapid transit tax rate for them, such a move would create almost an unbearable tax burden for other residents of the county.

And, The Sun feels that the interests of the majority of people in Contra Costa County would not be served by such a district.

THERE'S NO doubt that residents of the eastern county area, paying for the same transit tax rate as central county residents, will not use this system as much.

However, central county residents pay the same tax for smog control which is caused by industry in the eastern county area.

The six counties in the smog control district all pay the same tax rate although it's apparent Contra Costa County doesn't have the severe problems of other counties.

Also, the transit district would benefit residents of all three counties because freeway congestion would be diminished throughout the area. Even those who wouldn't ride the transit would find driving much easier on the freeways.

Although rapid transit plans do not call for immediate extension of the line into the east county, it is possible that the system will be expanded in the future.

The Sun wonders if, at that time, the eastern county would be willing to pay the full cost of building such an extension? And, what would they pay to compensate for the line being built as far as Concord? And when the present system is complete, will eastern county riders pay a higher fare because they pay a lower tax rate?

ALSO, The transit district hopes to establish feeder lines into the outlying communities so rapid transit will be almost as convenient for residents of the eastern county areas as it is for central county residents.

And, The Sun feels a short drive from Martinez, Danville, Pittsburg or Antioch to the nearest transit station will be a lot easier than fighting freeway traffic from these points to destinations on the other side of the hills.

When the good of the majority is considered, it must be apparent that transit is needed in the Bay Area.

Waldie's proposal should have come long before this date. More than 60 per cent of the voters in three counties have endorsed the transit system.

The district that Waldie proposes should have been studied many months, or even years ago.

The tax structure was decided a long time ago. Everyone knew if the transit bond passed, the tax rate would be the same for property owners in all three counties.

The Sun feels that the greatest good of the greatest number of the people must be considered. Waldie's plan has come too late for consideration.

Waldie, who represents voters in Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, and Concord, as well as areas east, must think of the county-wide benefits of transit.

The Sun feels he should reconsider his proposal and withdraw it.

Eastbay 'Threat'

Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan said recently that the Bay Area Rapid Transit District should locate its new engineering and administrative offices in the Eastbay.

The Sun agrees that this is a good idea. However, it does not agree with the mayor's "blackmail" scheme to bring the transit offices across the bay.

HOULIHAN said he would join the effort to block construction of the transit system if the offices were not moved out of San Francisco.

Houlihan has been an avid supporter of the transit system, but his effort to get the district's offices in the Eastbay couldn't have been handled in a more amateurish manner.

In the first place, anyone, when confronted by a threat, will immediately become alienated.

The Sun believes the Oakland mayor could have been more diplomatic in his approach to this matter.

The Sun is wholeheartedly in favor of an Eastbay location because it feels the main activity, main construction and focal point of the system will be in the Eastbay. Oakland probably should be the headquarters.

FOR THE most part only the downtown section of the City of San Francisco will have the transit system. The present system includes no other counties on the west side of the bay.

However, The Sun would not want the supervisors of Contra Costa County to make a "blackmail" demand on directors of the transit system to bring their offices to this county.

Mayor Houlihan's folly might well hurt the Eastbay's hopes for the transit offices.

ALTHOUGH his goal is a good one, his action to attain the goal was poorly executed.

The Sun hopes directors of the transit district look into an Eastbay site for their offices in an objective manner, overlooking the mayor's threat.

The Eastbay should have the transit headquarters despite the ridiculous action of one of its mayors.

On Elections...

It's a safe assumption that the strength of our democracy depends on the people who are elected to public office.

The weakness or strength of the elected person depends on the enthusiasm or apathy of the people who are eligible to cast votes.

Well-qualified persons are needed to run for public office in all fields. America needs people with integrity to sit on school boards, fire boards and sanitary district boards, as well as others.

AMERICA needs good, honest people who are selfish only in their desire to do the best possible job for the voters who have elected them.

It is not a healthy situation to have an incumbent run unopposed—no matter what his public post.

The Sun believes that an incumbent, even if he or she is doing a good job, needs opposition. This opposition is needed to make democracy work.

Elections make America strong. It makes the person elected a better public official.

NICE NIELSEN
Dear Editor:

Your recent newspaper tactics regarding the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, and more particularly, Supervisor Mel Nielsen, is unfair editorializing.

I am not in Mr. Nielsen's district, but I have called on him on many occasions for answers to problems, and have found him co-operative and helpful.

Furthermore, I am familiar with his accomplishments, particularly his work as chairman of the Contra Costa County Water Agency.

His work for the good of the delta industrial area, (and incidentally for the good of the tax-base for the entire county), is recognized throughout the state and federal government. What started to be a one-county fight for riparian water rights, has developed into a 22-county solid front for Northern California water users. Without his able leadership, this could never have been accomplished.

I know of one trip to Washington, the one to which you refer, that resulted in the savings of $150,000 to the taxpayers of this county. Well worth the $133.82 to which you refer.

Incidentally, the mere fact that he is the water agency chairman, and the fact that Contra Costa County has been fighting for its life, in respect to water, for the past year, should account for the fact that Mr. Nielsen has traveled more, attended more meetings, caucuses, etc. in regard to water than any other supervisor.

Any fool can list figures, it takes some intestinal fortitude to come up with facts.
LAVERNE CHRISTENSEN.

THANK YOU
Dear Editor:

This is just a note to say thank you very much for participating in the career panel on Journalism here at Acalanes shortly before the holidays.

We appreciate your taking time to come and talk with students interested in the field.

While we teachers try to fill in our classes on pertinent vocational information related to our subjects, there is no substitute for the straight-forward comments of persons currently participating in a given occupation.

Again, thanks very much for your interest in young people and participation on the panel.

Sincerely,
ROBERT R. WICKS
Counselor
(Ed. note: George Colburn, associate editor of The Sun participated in the panel.)

PEACE REPLY
Dear Editor:

Mrs. F. R. Edwards should be commended for her letter published in The Sun of January 11 concerning the Women Strike for Peace Movement. This organization fits in beautifully with the communist plan. It draws into the fold innocent, well-meaning, peace-loving people who don't realize that to the communist anything is right, no matter how devious by our standards, if it furthers his cause.

We Americans need the HUAC for this reason, to investigate and then warn us of these pitfalls, a service which our regular judicial and law enforcement organizations cannot offer.

We Like It Here... Some Sure Signs that Your Child Is Growing Up

By MARIE MONAHAN

WHEN he no longer sticks his fingers in the frosting bowl... & doesn't complain of mushrooms in the casserole.

When she puts the peanut butter & jam jars back neatly on the pantry shelf.

When the phone calls for him or her are no longer from the same sex.

When she casts a critical eye at you & loudly appraises what you're wearing, even if it's just for a night out at the movie.

WHEN THEY no longer order Hamburgers out to dinner at a famous fish restaurant, ANY restaurant!

When he takes your arm crossing the street instead of lagging behind—or leaping ahead.

WHEN she's no longer greeted by her last name—or he by his FIRST!

When she suddenly starts borrowing your blouses, bags & belts.

When he inventories the contents of his father's closet.

WHEN your choicest perfume starts disappearing as if it were water, not to mention your lipstick.

When Dad's after-shave does a quick diminishing job.

WHEN he offers to pay for the more expensive shoes—or announces his preference for the status store over the penny-wise place.

When he suddenly stops turning to rock 'n roll programs & settles for a symphony on the stereo.

When he looks up from the newspaper & makes a commentary on a current crisis.

When he starts philosophizing on how HE'D raise the family—or run the world.

When she browses your bureau & later turns up with your old pin on her lapel.

OR you find your brand new dress pumps UNDER her bed.

When she'd rather look at Vogue than MAD, scans the society pages, studies the store sales ads & knows who's getting married this month.

When he starts buying car & sports magazines instead of comic books.

When there's no longer the Sunday morning race for the funnies & he calls for his favorite columnist as if they were best-friend buddies.

When she takes all the "childish things" out of her room & turns it topsy-turvy transforming it into a teen-age haven.

WHEN she does the dishes without being asked...

OR he suddenly prefers to press his own pants because you don't create them right.

When she goes on a diet—or he shuns chocolate & icecream.

WHEN she changes her hairdo daily, knows ALL the hair styles & he doesn't need reminding to get a haircut.

When you can't get near a mirror or into the bathroom or at the newspapers or close to the refrigerator or into your favorite chair or on the telephone, then you KNOW they're well on their way—

JUST GROWING UP!

GROMYKO
Dear Editor:

President Kennedy, in connection with missiles in Cuba, proved that the Soviet Diplomat Andrei Gromyko was an absolute liar.

This was proven and stated by President Kennedy to the entire world in a television broadcast. And now Gromyko asks that all troops in Berlin be placed under the U.N. Command.

To all Americans it should now be clear that the chief of staff of the military forces under the U.N. is a Soviet Russian Communist and the holder of this position always has been a communist.

Since the establishment of the United Nations, there have been seven persons hold this job in top command of all United Nations military forces and all seven have been communists. This job will always be held by a communist.

This is one of the primary reasons why the military forces of the United States should never, at any time, be placed under the direct military command of the United Nations.

This applies to the situation in West Berlin. It applies in the Congo. It also applies to the situation with regard to any so-called "disarmament" and any arming of the U.N.

If there is any error whatsoever in what I have stated, write to your United States senator and find out why a communist always has been and always be in military command of the U.N.

The American people are not stupid, Mr. Gromyko, and we are not going to grab your bait when we know there is a hook in it. Thank you, Mr. Kennedy, for proving on television to the satisfaction of the entire world that Mr. Gromyko is a liar.

QUICK RESULTS
Dear Editor:

I would like to tell you of the prompt help we received from Mel Nielsen.

We moved into our home four years ago. A guard rail was necessary on a dangerous curve. A car could have landed on our front yard.

The county red tape was terrific and they didn't know when it could be done if ever. A phone call to Nielsen got results.

The next week after it was in, someone smashed into it. I'm also glad that someone fought rapid transit.

No Snow? Who Needs It Anyway?

By BERNICE SCHARLACH

Deep gloom descended on our house this week. Not so much because of high school finals. But because, up in the mountains, it refused to snow. In spite of the rain dances performed with religious zeal in P.E. classes, in spite of crossed fingers and wishing on stars, it looked like another week-end without snow.

Could it be that I'm a saboteur? That after 17 years of quiet—and sometimes not so quiet—suffering, Someone Up There is listening to me and got my message?

True, if I had been forthright and honest in the first place, I'd never had to go through this martyr. But how do you tell someone you're in love with—and haven't hooked yet—that you hate the sport? Especially when he's just back from three years in the South Pacific and all he wants to see is snow?

SO NATURALLY, as a prelude to buying a trousseau, I bought a complete ski outfit—which I still wear because outdated or not, you really don't need stretch pants for sitting.

I still ache when I think of that first trip to Yosemite. Black and blue from falling, stiff from trying to untangle my legs with those blasted things tied on to them, shivering in the bleak, cold, Women's Dorm with its rows of uncomfortable cots. Standing in line in the freezing snow outside the "powder room."

The next year was better. I didn't have to be a Good Sport. I was pregnant. It was fun being a watcher. That's when I found out a winter vacation has definite possibilities. You can read, you can bask in the sun. And you can knit. Baby things? Don't be silly! My first knitting project was a ski sweater for my husband, of course.

The third year was almost the end of a happy marriage. Because I stayed home, having one baby and the other on the way. My husband, fatherhood no obstacle, was on the slopes when he heard himself paged over the emergency public address system.

PERHAPS I missed the quiet, winter beauty of Yosemite, or the pleasant dozing in the sun, or the idea of my spouse carrying on as usual while I was carrying his child and kneedeep in diapers was too much to take.

So I phoned him to come home or else—and he did, with a broken leg which he got while schussing down to answer the phone! The years of remorse, the guilt feelings it still engenders, weren't worth it, believe me!

I always viewed that trailer parked near the ski school at Badger Pass as a plot thought up by my husband to get me back on skis. A "convenience" for mothers, the warm, fully-equipped trailer, complete with a trained child-supervisor, took over the care of little ones leaving mothers "free to ski." Ugh, with my diaper-clad alibi gone, I lied again. Still no progress.

As each of my sons was old enough to enter ski school, I entered with him, and watched with pride and frustration as he got promoted. One by one they left me behind in the snow bunny class as they progressed from rope tow to T-bars to chair lifts.

FINALLY, as I ran out of kids, I turned in my ski boots and took up the occupation of custodian. For several peaceful, happy years I have been in charge of wallets, watches, extra mittens, sun-tan lotion and the movie camera. This was a useful, important work and kept me busy.

My only complaint was, it was a lonesome. There aren't too many people who sit around at ski resorts. Except the injured, of course, but they're no fun to talk to. They just grouse about all the skiing they're missing.

All at night, when you're all full of pep from relaxing all day and you want to have fun, everyone else is too tired to do anything.

But things took a turn for the better last year, as I progressed from custodian to chaperone. I had lots of company during the day, and lots of activity to oversee at night.

I am really looking forward to being a chaperone again. So I just wanted to say that if the reason it isn't snowing is my fault, then please start the deluge.

I canceled that message a long, long time ago!

Under The Sun What Do Screaming Sirens Mean to You?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

If you hear a siren screaming steadily for three to five minutes, what would you do? If the siren screamed with an "up and down, wavy noise," what would it mean?

No, it's not a riddle or the latest joke. The first is the "yellow alert"—possibility of nuclear bombardment. Put your own civil defense plan into action.

The wavy signal (Red) means take cover; the attack is imminent or has taken place elsewhere.

(Do you have these memorized? I will confess that I don't but certainly should.)

A talk with an expert

Today's column will not be a dissertation on civil defense, even though there is much to say. I just finished talking to Will Perry, director of the county's disaster office. I realize how little I know about protecting my family in case of a possible attack.

This is the purpose of today's column. Does your family have a "family plan"—if and when a nuclear or other major disaster occurs?

My conversation with Perry made me realize the "Silverman Family Plan" is now outdated. Our former plan: If the family becomes separated, we would head into the San Joaquin Valley area and go to the newspaper office in the town at which each of us landed. We would leave messages if moved. The newspaper office was at least the "contact point."

We also have had to change plans because no longer will any attempt be made by our school districts to evacuate students. A yellow signal means the kids will be sent home on foot. My kids can get home fairly fast from their schools.

Plan for yellow alert

Our plan now calls for each of us to come home, in event of a yellow alert, and then to evacuate by car. ("Eleanor, let's not forget the box of supplies in the front closet!")

Perry said that when our car arrives at a major intersection or block point, we will be told where to drive. This will primarily depend upon the wind. He explained that the two safest areas in the United States are in Humboldt County and/or the Monterey area. The valley areas to the east might catch much fallout because of the winds blowing eastward. Besides, he added, Merced with its giant SAC airbase is a hot target, as is Travis airbase across the Sacramento River.

In case of separation, our plan now calls for "meeting" or contacting at the Eureka and/or Monterey newspapers. The third alternative is the Reno newspaper.

This is based on his suggestion that alternative family meeting places should be established. He stressed that meeting places should be with relatives or friends or locations familiar even to young children. His children know the Modoc County area and know relatives there, so that is his main contact point.

How long a separation?

A family could be separated for months, he explained, but having a family plan will expedite the ultimate reunion. A central registry system would be in operation to help unite families. If you know where the other members of your family might be, your chances of a faster reunion are much better.

I talked at length with the disaster director about shelters, Red alerts, food and supplies at schools, evacuation routes, how to remember what to do, etc. There is much that we can do. Literature is available.

Evacuation maps (with some instructions on fallout hazards) have been printed. Also available is the pamphlet issued by the federal government. In a month, the county will have printed 50,000 wallet cards with instructions.

Do you want this literature?

If so, call or write and ask for it: Contra Costa County Disaster Office, 2130 Arnold Industrial Highway, Martinez. Phone: 228-5000. If you forget the address, write County Civil Defense, Martinez, Perry said.

Or if you are near either of the two Sun offices, stop in. We have 200 maps and pamphlets, as well as 50 sets of other material. The evacuation map is also being distributed in various business locations in central and eastern county areas.

Get yours today.

Letters to The Editor

BODEGA HEAD
Dear Editor:

I'm writing you because I think you can help us. "We" are the Committee to Preserve Bodega Head; I am Kent Grigg. I graduated as student body president of Acalanes High School in 1957, and I am now a student at the University of California in Berkeley.

I'm asking you to use your influence through the people in the Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Orinda area.

The problem is something which concerns all of us in a democratic society.

It appears that time is running out—although an injunction is in effect delaying construction, the bulldozers of the company have already gouged out part of the beauty of the head, and it appears that they're racing to accomplish as much as possible before the court case is heard.

The committee of local citizens and conservationists has become aware that the possibility of losing this fight, so ardently and honorably joined, is coming too close for comfort.

The citizens of Santa Rosa County are just beginning to realize the seriousness of the situation and we fear that time will deny their wishes, and render the "decision" that nobody made irrevocable.

The newspaper, citizens' groups, and labor in the county have started to act; but they need encouragement.

They need encouragement from influential people outside the region. I'd thought all along that I knew no one of any political or social import.

Though I don't really know you, I understand from your work in our area that you care about important things and know important people. I am too ignorant to recommend anything specific, but I know that a lot of statewide leaders live in our area.

Thank you for your time. I'd be very glad to talk to you about this, at your convenience, if there is anything I can add. Dave Pesonen lives in the same house, and we welcome any questions. Thanks again.

KENT L. GRIGG

Catering 'New Frontier'

The fabulous Terrace Tea Room of Walnut Creek has added a new frontier (NOT to coin a word) to their fund raising activities for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. For the first time recently, they catered a large reception.

The new concept started when the Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association opened a branch recently in Pleasant Hill.

A bank executive, whose wife is active in the Allied Arts on the peninsula (where catering is a top fund raiser) suggested that the tea room do the catering.

A bank official contacted Mrs. Patch. The dynamic Martinez woman took on the job—the first large catering assignment. Nightingale Unit of the center made the hors d'oeuvres.

And just ask anyone who attended the reception how they tasted!

From February 1 through 11, the bank will serve complimentary coffee and cookies catered by (guess who) the Terrace Tea Room.

All of the workers at the successful tea room are volunteers. Many of them have household help in their own homes, and come to the tea room to don a uniform and wait on tables or do k.p.

Their reward comes when the tearoom gives its annual check to the therapy center.

Vintage Festival To Begin

Dinner parties in private homes and restaurants will top off festivities tomorrow, which will begin when some 2000 persons gather in the Turf Club of Golden Gate Fields for the Vintage Festival sponsored annually by Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Purvis, Jr., will entertain at a buffet dinner in their Orinda home following the wine-tasting as they have for the previous three years.

Their guests will be Messrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Alexander, Joseph Carter, Robert Del Re, Carl Ferguson, Douglas Hansen, Slover Hollister, A. Ford Lovelace, John Roberts, Fred Scobey, William White and Dexter Honens. Mrs. Purvis is a member of Birch Branch, one of the festival sponsors.

Another member of Birch, Mrs. William B. Morrison of Orinda, with her husband and a group of friends, will go from the Turf Club to the Tonga Room in San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel for dinner and dancing.

Guests will be Messrs. and Mrs. White Clark, Lee V. Bussio, James Connor, Bruce Currier, Stan Jackson, Harold Smedman, Lee Smith and Lewis Aver.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McHale of Lafayette (she is a member of Cedar Jr.) are assembling a group to go on to dinner at Spenger's in Berkeley after the festival. Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels of Orinda and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillman of Walnut Creek will be included in this party.

The Officers Club at Treasure Island will be the destination for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foley (she is a member of Fir) and their guests, Lt. Col. and Mrs. William M. Doyle. All are residents of Orinda.

Mr. and Mrs. Armon Weeks of Walnut Creek will be members of a party arranged by Mrs. John Farkas of Fir and her husband.

Danville Jrs. To Have Hearts, Flowers Bridge

Plans are complete for the dessert-bridge and fashion show to be given Wednesday at the Danville Women's Club.

Danville Junior Women's Club members, hostesses for the event, will prepare and serve a selection of favorite desserts. Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. will be followed by a showing of spring fashions from The Little Daisy of Danville.

Mrs. H. K. McCluer, chairman, announced those members of the club modeling include the Mes. Trevor Overett, Robert Peckachek, and George Stone.

Tickets at $1.75 may be obtained from any member, or by calling 837-6312 or 837-7754. Numerous door prizes will be awarded.

Proceeds will be presented to the Lynn School in Danville, which assists mentally retarded children.

Brahms Benefit For Booth

"Portraits in Fashion" will be the theme of the fashion show being presented by Brahms Cradle of Booth Memorial Hospital. It will be held at the Orinda Country Club January 30.

Small art palettes and flowers will decorate the tables and fashions from Irene Sargent will be shown. The cocktail hour will be at 11:30 a.m. with lunch being served at 12:30 p.m.

Local women who are chairmen for this event include Mrs. Harry Andersen of Orinda, publicity; Mrs. John O'Connor of Orinda, favors; Mrs. Thomas Bevier of Alamo, awards and prizes; "Bootes for Babies," a special feature, Mrs. James Sparkman of Moraga.

The music will be provided by Mrs. Merle Humphrey of Moraga.

Wigs will be a special feature by the "House of Fashion" in Alamo.

ALPHA O's WILL HAVE LUNCHEON WITH BOOK REVIEW, BRIDGE (standing) Mrs. Calvin Duncan, past president; Mrs. Raymond Horton, past secretary; (seated) Mrs. Clement Ford, Pan Hellenic delegate; Mrs. W. C. Anderson, magazine chairman. Sun photo by Bob Yost

Alpha O Party Is Today

East Bay Alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi are holding a luncheon at the Berkeley chapter house on Prospect Street at 12:30 this afternoon.

Many women east of the tunnel are attending. Many were actively involved with planning and the success of the affair.

Vets Auxiliary Meets at Terrace

More than 25 members and guests attended the first luncheon meeting of the new year for the Women's Auxiliary of the Alameda-Contra Costa County Veterinary Medical Association. It was held January 9 at the Terrace, Walnut Creek.

Presiding at the business meeting was the new president, Mrs. William M. Stansbury of Antioch.

Other officers present who were recently installed for the current term were Mrs. S. M. Goldberg, vice-president; Mrs. K. G. Cramton, secretary; and Mrs. Guy Railsback, treasurer.

Before the luncheon, the group met for a social hour at the home of Mrs. Clyde E. Brown. Mrs. George Eberhart was in charge of arrangements for the day.

'Candlelight And Gold' To Be Theme

"Candlelight and Gold" has been chosen as the theme of a dinner dance to be given by the Walnut Creek Junior Women's Club.

The affair, scheduled for February 16 at the Castlewood Country Club, will feature the music of Del Courtney.

The evening will have two highlights: one of which will be a fashion show by LaFemme of Walnut Creek. Very elegant cruise and cocktail wear will be shown by professional models.

The other highlight will be the appearance of a guest celebrity, as yet unnamed, on behalf of Muscular Dystrophy. The juniors have been giving personal and financial aid to M.D. through the year as their main philanthropy. Proceeds of the dance will also be presented to M.D.

Mrs. Glen Short, general chairman, has announced that Mrs. George Langen will be in charge of decorations and Mrs. Harry Hemstall will be ticket chairman.

ADMIRING A RARE old Hungarian necklace modeled by Mrs. Paul Goodbread of Orinda (center) are Mrs. Edward Lazzareschi of Walnut Creek (left) and Mrs. Janita H. Langford of Lafayette. The necklace, of garnets, diamonds and sapphires will be among hundreds of items shown at the Berkeley Women's City Club antique show, which started yesterday and will continue through Sunday.

Fees Are Co-Hosts At Crosby

The Frank Fees of Orinda were co-hosts at one of the largest private parties to be given at Pebble Beach last weekend, during the Crosby Golf Tournament.

The Fees, with her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Bell of Piedmont, gave a soiree Saturday night for over 200. Several of the guests were from this side of the tunnel.

Their small vacation house was the setting. A red and white striped tent was set up over the patio.

A large contingent of Contra Costans enjoyed the record-breaking four days of sunshine at the Crosby as well as all the trimmings of the showiest golf tourney of them all.

A few of the localites seen on the links were Mes. and Messrs. John Wendt, William Hobbs, Blake Collier and Lloyd Bradhoff.

Garnet to Give Bridge

Garnet Guild, John Muir Memorial Hospital, will hold its annual bridge luncheon on Thursday in various homes throughout the Walnut Creek and Concord area.

Centerpieces of fresh spring plants will adorn the bridge tables, and a $25 gift certificate from Joseph Magnin will be awarded as one of the charity prizes.

Proceeds to be turned over to the John Muir Memorial Hospital, according to Mrs. William Egan, general chairman.

"PORTRAITS IN FASHION" will be given by Brahms Cradle of Booth Memorial Hospital Wednesday. Discussing the affair are (from left): Mrs. James Sparkman, Moraga; Mrs. James Y. Smith, Orinda, and Mrs. Thomas Bevier, Alamo.

Art Center Plans Four Big Events

At the Orinda Art Center board meeting held last week at the home of Mrs. Phil Champion, plans were made for four new events to take place this spring, under the guidance of chairman Mrs. J. Richard Funk.

Date was set for the annual Mardi Gras Ball, to be held Friday, February 15, from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m., at the Orinda Country Club, with Gordon Heche and his orchestra being engaged to play for the masked dancers, following a sumptuous dinner in the country club tradition.

Six free lessons in watercolor techniques will be offered all sponsors, beginning February 19, and continuing on consecutive Tuesdays until March 26. Lou Nash will be instructor, the first class being held at St. Stephen's Church.

June in January for Brides-Elect

Judging by the number of engagements in the central county, it's literally June in January. Among the young people who recently became engaged are the following:

PAINTER-CARNAHAN
At a holiday open house at their Judith Lane, Lafayette, home, Mr. and Mrs. Brand Painter announced the engagement of their oldest daughter, Meredith Ann, to Douglas Carnahan of Sunnyvale.

Meredith had a great deal of variety in her high school matriculation. She spent her freshman year in Bangkok, Thailand; sophomore, Yokohama, Japan; junior, Miramonte High School; senior, Acalanes High School.

She is a member of the Daphne branch, East Bay Children's Hospital.

Meredith is a sophomore at San Jose State College where her fiancée is a senior, majoring in engineering.

Doug is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and works part time for Hewlett-Packard Company, Sunnyvale. His parents are the Victor Carnahans of Sunnyvale.

Meredith's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Margaret Glen who resides in the Palo Verde apartments, Lafayette. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Fanchon Painter.

No date has been set for the wedding.

MCDANIEL-KINNEY
Donna Marian McDaniels' betrothal to Robert C. Kinney was revealed by her parents at a small family dinner Christmas Eve. Mr. and Mrs. Donald McDaniels told of the romantic news at their home, 2644 San Carlos Drive, Walnut Creek.

Donna is a senior at Clayton Valley High School where she was a class officer. She is a dancer with the Diablo Light Opera Company. Donna plans to attend Diablo Valley College in the fall.

Her brother, Dave McDaniels, attends San Francisco State College. Her sister, Jerry Lynn McDaniels, attends San Miguel Elementary.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinney, 1840 Glen View Road, Walnut Creek.

He is a graduate of Acalanes and the University of California, Berkeley. He is doing graduate work at San Francisco State College. He plans to teach in the fall.

The benedict-elect, who spent two years with the Navy, is the brother of Dr. Richard Kinney of Lafayette and Edward Kinney of Pleasant Hill.

The wedding date for Donna and Robert will probably be late summer.

SUARDI-JAMISON
At a dinner party given at their home recently, Mr. and Mrs. John Suardi announced the engagement of their daughter Mary Jo to Randall G. Jamison. Members of the immediate families were present.

The Suardis reside at 138 Fiesta Circle, Orinda. Mary Jo attended Miramonte High School and Lawton Medical Assistant College.

Randy, as her fiancée is called, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Guley of 61 Camino del Diablo, Orinda. His mother operates the Jamison Nursery School, Lafayette.

Randy graduated from Miramonte High School and is presently in the Coast Guard.

No date has been set for the wedding.

FOX-GEHRING
A tea table centerpiece, including two white doves, related the news of the engagement of Sheelah Lynn Fox to Erich C. Gehring. Mrs. John Cadwell was hostess at the tea in her Montclair home during the holidays.

Also, the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Fox, 4 Greenwood Court, Orinda, honored the affianced pair at a family Christmas dinner party.

Sheelah, who teaches second grade at Orinda School, is a graduate of Acalanes High School and the University of California, Berkeley. She was a member of Daphne branch, CHEE, at high school, and of Delta Gamma sorority at U.C.

Her brother is Robert W. Fox of Concord.

Erich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad J. Gehring of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Acalanes, and attended Diablo Valley College before completing his military service with the Marine Corps. Erich is presently with Wells Fargo Bank, Terra Linda.

His sister is Mrs. James B. Wright of Livermore.

The newly engaged couple plans a summer meeting.

HOUSTON-MEDIGOVICH
Sharing honors at Mrs. Cadwell's holiday tea for Sheelah (above) was Kyla Celeste Houston whose engagement to William Mitchell Medigovich was also announced.

That same evening, a holiday dinner party was given by Kyla's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Houston, 1 Robert Road, Orinda. Over the buffet a large gold heart with white doves on each side holding a white ribbon streamer with the names

Kyla and Bill in gold letters, revealed the engagement news again to family and close friends. A champagne toast and petits fours with wedding bells concluded the dinner.

Kyla is a graduate of Acalanes High School and the University of California, Berkeley. While on campus, she was Alpha Phi.

At the U.C. School of Nursing, San Francisco, the bride-to-be was a member of the California Club.

Her brother is Bill Houston. The benedict-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Medigovich of Marysville.

William is a graduate of San Francisco State College. He is currently serving in the Army. His sister is Mrs. Pedrag Mitrovich of San Diego.

Kyla and William plan a June wedding in Orinda.

SPOTT-MCCRACKEN
Mrs. Dorothy Mattoon Spott, director of the Junior League's Volunteer Bureau in this county, recently gave a tea to announce the betrothal of her daughter, Sarah Eames Spott, to Robert Weir McCracken. The tea was at the Spott home, 20 Brookbank Road, Orinda.

Sally, as the bride-elect is known, is a graduate of Miramonte High School. She attended Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington, for two years. She is a junior at San Francisco State where she is majoring in education. Delta Gamma is her sorority.

Her father is Robert C. Spott. She has two brothers and a sister: Robert C. Spott, Jr., Stephen and Susan.

The benedict-elect is the son of Mrs. Shirley McCracken of Tacoma, Washington. He received his B.S. at Whitman and is currently in his first year of dentistry at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, S.F. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

His three brothers are Thomas, Stephen and David. No date has been set for the wedding.

LANCONE-MAYER
Mr. and Mrs. Weido Lancione of Orinda recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Jean Lancione, to John C. Mayer.

Linda was a member of the first graduating class at Miramonte High School. She was the first American Field Service exchange student from Miramonte.

The bride-elect will graduate from the University of California, Berkeley, this June.

John is the son of Mrs. Esther Lee Mayer and Glen Mayer of Los Angeles. He is a graduate of the University of Southern California and is currently studying at San Francisco Geological Seminary.

The wedding will be in June, following Linda's graduation.

BARNUM-JARRETT
At a family party at their Lafayette home, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barnum of Lafayette recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Ann Barnum, to David R. Jarrett of Berkeley.

Kathleen (called Kathie by family and friends) is a graduate of Acalanes High School, where she pledged Gamma Phi Beta. She transferred to the University of Oregon at Eugene where she is now a senior.

Kathie has one sister, Mrs. William Alton Taylor, also of Lafayette.

Dave, a pre-med student at the University of California, Davis, is the son of Professor and Mrs. R. F. Jarrett of Berkeley. Dave graduated from Berkeley High School, where his brother Chris is a senior.

The date for Kathie and Dave's wedding is not set.

STABLE-RICKETTS
Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stable, 40 Honey Hill Road, Orinda, recently announced the engagement of their daughter Virginia to Roger Ricketts.

A champagne party for the affianced pair's friends, as well as the host's friends, was followed by a buffet dinner party for the immediate families and a few close friends.

Virginia's brother is Mike Stable. Her sisters are Donna, who attends the College of Holy Names; Laurie at Miramonte; Barbara, Pine Grove; and Marian, Sleepy Hollow school.

The bride-elect was graduated from Acalanes High School in 197 and U.C., 1961. She was an Alpha Delta Pi. She is now a stewardess with Pan American and flies all over the world.

Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ricketts of Oakland. He is a graduate of U.C. where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi. He is now working in San Francisco.

Virginia and Roger plan to wed in June.

PRADA-TAYLOR
Sandra Elaine Prada's betrothal to Paul Remslund Taylor was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Prada, during the holiday season. The Pradas revealed the romantic news to friends and relatives at a festive Christmas dinner at their home, 2359 Warren Road, Walnut Creek.

Sandra graduated from Las Lomas High School. She was a member of Gamma Kappa Theta sorority at Occidental College, where she graduated with honors. She also attended the University of California at Berkeley.

Past Worthy Advisor of Rainbow for Girls Assembly No. 84, Sandra was also seal bearer of the California Scholarship Federation. She also belonged to Geneta and junior auxiliary of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Taylor, Berkeley.

August 17 will be the date for the wedding.

Sandra Is Given Shower

A bridal shower for Sandra Susan Leach was given Sunday afternoon by Katherine Berringer and Ruth Kennedy at the Walnut Creek home of the latter.

The honoree, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Leach of Concord, was Homecoming Queen last fall at Diablo Valley College.

She is soon to become the bride of Gilbert Tully, also of Concord. Gilbert was vice president of the Associated Students of the same school this last semester.

The table was decorated with a large white wedding bell, and tall white tapers. Mrs. Leach poured at the coffee urn, Mrs. Tully poured tea.

During the opening of the gifts, one of Susan's college friends fashioned the bows from the packages into an attractive bouquet.

The invited guests were the Mesdames Mildred Leach, mother of the honoree; Paul Tully, mother of the prospective groom; J. D. Pitcock, grandmother of Gilbert; John Kammmer, Zeno Sytkowski, Opal Shrock, and Paul Kennedy.

Also present were the Misses Josephine Pitcock, Gilbert's aunt; Dorothy Gregory, Sally Gallagher, Kathy Lewis, Ann Gilmore, Ruth Watson, Georgeanne Zaro, and Kathy Kennedy, sister of Ruth.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES BEAUMONT BLASQUEZ (Patricia Kelley Nisbet) Walnut Creek Pair Wed In Walnut Creek

Patricia Kelley Nisbet Wed To James Blasquez

Two Walnut Creek residents were united in marriage when Patricia Kelley Nisbet became the bride of James Beaumont Blasquez recently in St. Mary's Church, Walnut Creek. The Rev. Joseph McLaughlin performed the 2 p.m. nuptial rites.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Nisbet, 351 Montecillo Drive, Walnut Creek. She is a graduate of Las Lomas High School, and has been working for an insurance company in San Francisco.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliseo G. Blasquez, 2000 Solveig Drive, Walnut Creek. James, too, is a Las Lomas graduate.

Patricia wore a long-sleeved white lace sheath as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. It had a detachable train of peau de soie overlaid with silk organza.

Her elbow length veil of tulle fell from a head piece fashioned of a single satin rose. The bridal bouquet was roses and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Organist was Mrs. Jack Strand of Walnut Creek. The reception which followed immediately after the ceremony was at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley. Decor predominately green and white.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lawrence Alary. Her gown was cocktail length, bouffant and emerald green.

She wore a satin rose head piece with an abbreviated veil matching her dress.

Best man was Lawrence Alary of Burlingame. Ushers were Richard Nisbet, brother of the bride; John Murphy, Burlingame; and Dale Ferguson, Walnut Creek.

Patricia's sister is Mary E. Nisbet.

James' brother is John Blasquez. His sisters are Mrs. Frank L. Dwinell, Jr., Mary-Elena and Rozanne Blasquez.

The groom is presently serving as a corporal in the Marine Corps, stationed at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station.

The just-weds' honeymoon trip took them to Portland and Seattle. Patricia's going away outfit was a suit of emerald green topped by a blue coat and navy accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The young people have taken an apartment in Lakewood in the Long Beach area.

Walnut Branch Meets

Members of the Walnut Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, held their first meeting of the year recently at the home of Mrs. Herbert Daley in Walnut Creek. Mrs. C. Terence Ring and Mrs. Richard Heine were hostesses.

Plans were formulated for a busy and profitable year under the direction of Mrs. Lewis Walton, new chairman. Other new officers and chairmen assumed their duties for the first time.

Mrs. Louis W. Werthman is vice chairman and ticket chairman; Mrs. Robert Hollis, recording secretary; Mrs. D. Charles Williams, treasurer, and Mrs. Howard Bell, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Williams, who does extensive volunteer work at the hospital, was recently elected "Woman of the Year" for the 13th consecutive year.

This is a singular honor conferred by the executive council of the hospital to only those women who have given outstanding service and devotion to the hospital.

Mrs. J. Allen Madison is membership chairman and Mrs. Robert Bruen, Jr. is to be chairman of a rummage sale this spring.

The ever-popular May Festival of Flowers and Fashions held annually in the lovely Howard Gardens, Walnut Creek, will be planned and directed this year by Mrs. Lyle T. Wilcox.

Mrs. King Crosno will be in charge of the full dinner dance. Mrs. John R. Sandman will handle public relations.

Members plan to attend the annual meeting of all the branches at the Claremont Hotel, February 18.

Under the 1962 direction of Mrs. Robert Bruen, Jr., Walnut Branch was again one of the top earning branches in the area.

'Your Enchanted Evening'

Glamorous gowns for "Your Enchanted Evening" will be shown on Monday at the Therapy Center Terrace luncheon-fashion show.

Cocktail dresses, short formal, bridesmaids' dresses and styles designed for the "mother of the bride" will be modeled at noon and again at 1 p.m. "Brides and Belles" in Walnut Creek will provide the designs.

Mrs. Gus Nieman of Lafayette, a member of the Robin Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will select the fashions.

Yosemite Guild Elects Roster

The Yosemite Guild of John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met recently at the home of Mrs. Gerald Hosking in Lafayette.

Plans were discussed by the members of their wine-tasting party to be held March 23 at the Elks Club, Walnut Creek, major fund-raising effort.

Mrs. James J. Hague, newly elected president for 1963, announced the appointment of the following chairmen: ways and means, Mrs. Thurston Perry; thrift shop, Mrs. R. Wayne Goodale; wine-tasting party, Mrs. Don Campbell and Mrs. Ronald Findlen.

Council representatives, Mrs. Lyall Bishop, Mrs. Neal Campbell and Mrs. James Terrell; telephone, Mrs. Kjell Forsman and Mrs. Jack Prescott; publicity, Mrs. Harold C. Bates.

Other officers serving with Mrs. Hague are Mrs. Hal El-road, vice president; Mrs. Richard Emory, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward L. Merrill, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George P. Talbott, treasurer.

Esperanza D.A.R. Holds Meeting

Mrs. John E. McElroy, 152 Camino Pablo, Orinda, is public relations chairman for the Esperanza Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She announces the chapter's first meeting and luncheon at the home of Regent Mrs. Harry S. Holt, who also presided.

Farleys to Be Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Farley, Jr., of Lafayette, will attend a dinner party at the Piedmont home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rollin Silfies preceding the Oakland Symphony Guild concert at 8:30 p.m. January 29.

Susan Henry, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Henry of 42 Brookside Road, was recently elected president of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at the University of Pacific, Stockton.

Susan is in her junior year majoring in elementary school teaching.

Her younger sister, Nancy, a freshman on the same campus, was recently elected as representative of all the women's dorms to the student government council.

Both girls are Miramonte High School graduates.

Sued for $250,000

An El Sobrante woman filed suit last week for $250,000 damages against decorator Louis F. Rolley, 41, of 8 Dale Court, Orinda.

Mrs. Juanita B. Stevenson, 41, charged Rolley with negligence in hitting her small sports car broadside.

THE ACCIDENT took place January 19, 1962, at Moraga Way and Ivy Drive. Mrs. Stevenson was making a right-hand turn into the southbound lane.

At the time of the accident, Rolley said that Mrs. Stevenson's car ran through a stop sign, according to the California Highway Patrol report.

Mrs. Stevenson claims that she suffered a lacerated face, severe eye injuries, fractured thigh and back injuries.

She is employed by the county as head of the rehabilitation services unit in the Social Service Department.

The Ski Line . . .

Snow--Oh Snow--Where Are You--Start Falling

By HEC HANCOCK

Okay, I goofed last week. So it didn't snow. At least you've got to admit I gave it a good try.

While it didn't come off, I have to admit I just couldn't pass up odds like that. The Bing Crosby Golf Tournament has become notorious for its inclement weather. Then this year, of all years, not a single drop of moisture fell on the tournament.

I mean to tell you, old friend, we've got trouble, big trouble.

There's one group, however, that isn't going to let the weather man intimidate them. Nosirree. Stanley School of Lafayette is pushing ahead with their plans for their first ski trip of the year, this week end.

Before you think these youngsters have flipped, let me explain that they have picked the one spot in the Sierra where they are assured of having snow.

Little Payco at Squaw Valley has solved that problem by employing the use of an artificial snow making machine.

Don't laugh. It works.

Water is sprayed out under great pressure at night and the freezing temperature turns it to snow. Several inches can be laid down over the slope each evening.

What an idea for Mt. Diablo with the temperatures we've had this season.

This will make the third year that the Stanley School group has journeyed several times each season to the Sierra. It's been my pleasure to have handled the instructions on these safaris. It's been a real source of satisfaction to have been of some assistance in getting so many youngsters started skiing.

Ed Brown and Hal White will join the youngsters on the slopes to lend their moral support.

Bum predictions of snow haven't dissuaded this bunch. They'll just go out and find their own snow, thank you.

While it begins to appear that it's going to be clear and cold until at least July, there's at least one season that was later in arriving (assuming the current season ever arrives). I don't wish to appear to be older than baseball, but I can remember the winter of 1949 when the snow pack wasn't ready for skiing until after the first of February.

The situation got so serious that year electrical power was rationed. The city of Reno put a "brown out" into effect, so that the flashy neon signs of the night spots were kept dark.

As you might have guessed by now, it finally started snowing, and more than made up for lost time. It's the same old story, feast or famine.

As a matter of fact, there was great skiing as of June 1. The Sugar Bowl up on Donner Summit had nearly six feet of snow by the lodge as of that date.

The moral? Just don't hit the panic button—not yet.

Despite the reassurances, the report for this week end is far from heartening. Facilities of the resorts at the higher elevations will operate to a limited degree. Included in this group are Mt. Shasta, Alpine Meadows, Squaw Valley, Sugar Bowl, Heavenly Valley, and Slide Mountain.

As Wally Rothgeb, manager at Heavenly Valley pointed out, there are two unusual features available to skiers for this time of year. "No lift lines and plenty of parking space," he deadpanned—through his tears.

CHIN IN HAND, an apprehensive Las Lomas coach, Ed Strelow, sorrowfully watches his Knights going down to a stinging defeat at the hands of Acalanes Dons, 84-49. It was the highest score ever run up by an Acalanes team. Equally dismayed with Strelow at their team's low scoring punch are Jerry Nordeman (next to the coach) and Rick Leach.

Victory Keeps Swim Team's Record Intact

The Aquabears, local AAU Saturday at the Encinal High School pool in Alameda.

The Alameda team which boasts many outstanding junior swimmers, took an early lead, but fell to Aquabear strength in the older age groups.

Strength among the older swimmers came to the front as the Aquabears swept almost all places in the 15-17-year-old boys' and girls' events. Charles Schillinsky and Chris Umphred took three first places each in the freestyle, butterfly and backstroke, while Duke Gibbs and Donna Salet won breast stroke honors.

Bob Kammeijer, Miramonte High School star, captured second in both the freestyle and butterfly, close behind Charles Schillinsky, Aquabear star.

MARK SPITZ, 12-year-old from Walnut Creek, national record holder, nailed three first places, winning the freestyle, butterfly and backstroke by comfortable margins.

Friday Roundup . . .

Scots Lose, So Dons Assume FAL Top Spot

It took a lot of doing but the Acalanes Dons finally made it to the top of the Foothill Athletic League last Friday night.

Working their reserves most of the game, Acalanes blasted Las Lomas, 82-49.

Piedmont, which went unbeaten into its game with San Ramon, was toppled by the Wolves, 45-44, and from the league lead.

THE OTHER FAL tilt saw Miramonte taking Alhambra to the tune of 52-41. With the win the Matadors moved into a second place tie with Piedmont.

By their Friday win the Acalanes Dons showed their record to four wins against a single loss and moved to the top of the standings.

Doug Sanderson of the Dons couldn't be stopped. In the first half he poured in 17 of his 22 points, and Acalanes walked off the floor at halftime with a commanding 44-24 lead.

Sanderson wasn't the whole show, however. He was ably assisted by Bill Higgins and Kirby Long who each scored 16 points for the Dons.

RICH KREIDER led the Knights' scoring with 11 points. The Piedmont-San Ramon tilt featured the return of Ned Church, one of the Highlanders' scoring aces who had been out of action for two weeks.

But the best that Church could do for the evening was 10 points, second to Tom Stewart's 13.

Chuck Ferreira nicked the basket for 18 points as San Ramon, behind at the half, 21-23, surged into the lead in the third quarter and managed to squeeze out the narrow win. Ron McLaughlin, the second man of San Ramon's one-two punch, came through with 11 points to help out with the victory.

THREE MIRAMONTE players, Eric Unruh, Steve Thaman and Pete Boyle, scored eight points each as the Matadors piled up a 30-17 halftime lead and then held on for the rest of the game to take the win. In the last half Alhambra pumped in 15 points, three more than what the Matadors could do.

In the Contra Costa Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League, Pleasant Hill was whipped by Antioch, 52-46, allowing the Panthers to take over sole ownership of first place.

College Park, however, tipped Pacifica, 48-40, to gain a second place tie with Clayton Valley and Mt. Diablo.

CLAYTON VALLEY, previously unbeaten, was upset by Pittsburg, 63-52, and Mt. Diablo knocked over Ygnacio Valley, 51-30.

Ron Edwards paced the An-tioc attack with 17 points while Mike Hayes was high man for the Rams with 10.

All nine Mt. Diablo players hit went on to an overwhelming victory.

Bob Roberts and Sam Martelli both hit 13 points to spark College Park past stubborn Pacifica, which stayed hot on the Falcons' heels with 15 points from Andy Rivera.

Ygnacio Valley.

Jim Flint topped the Clayton Valley scorers by hitting the basket for 17 points, but Pittsburg had three scorers in the double column and the Pirates

Gaels Head North for Two Games

Following a 10-day layoff, the St. Mary's Gaels pack their traveling bags today and head for Idaho and Washington where they tangle with two opponents next week.

On Monday the Gaels will be at Pocatello for a match with Idaho State and then on Wednesday they'll be in Seattle where they cope with the tough Chieftains.

St. Mary's won't resume regular West Coast Athletic Conference play until February 6 when they go up against Pepperdine at Oakland Auditorium.

Meanwhile, league statistics showed that Steve Gray, the Gaels' hot scoring ace, is leading all players in both total points and average.

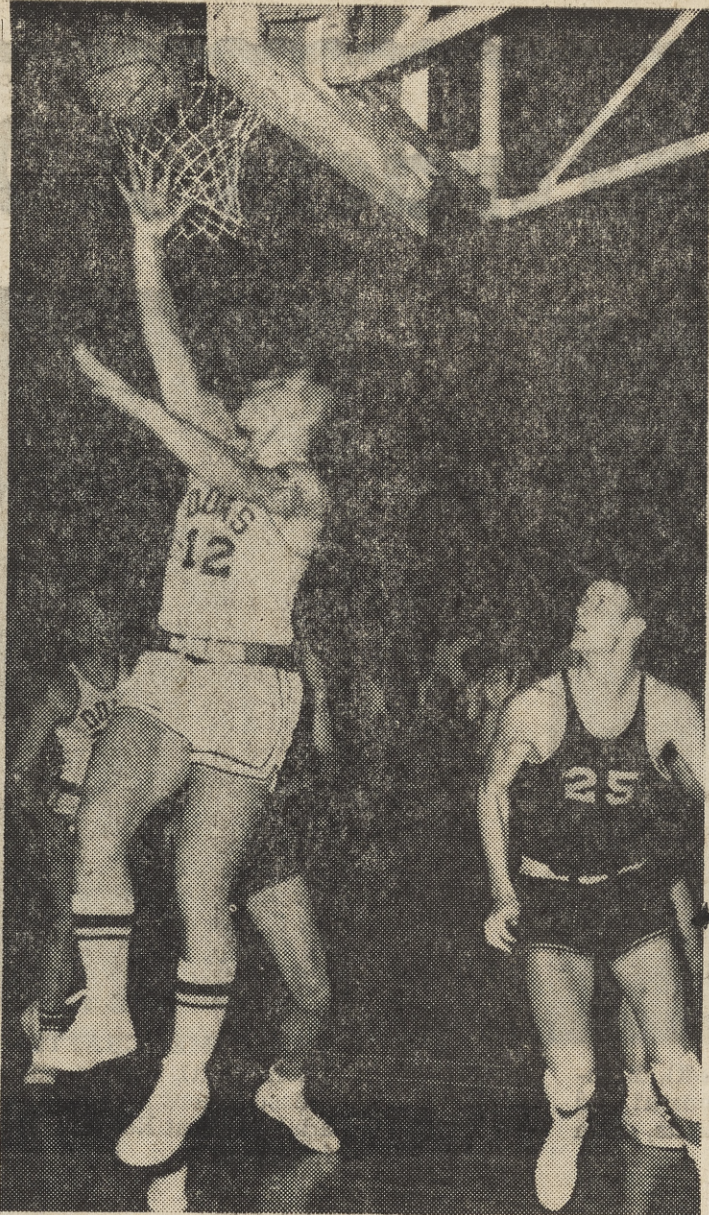

Though he's played in only two games, Gray has racked up 52 points for a 26.0 per game average. His closest competitor in the scoring parade is Pepperdine's Bob Warlick, 17.5, while Santa Clara's Joe Weiss has the second greatest number of points, 46.

Golfers Set For Tourney

Fifteen members of Contra Costa County Golf and Country Clubs are among the 135 amateurs who will join 50 of the nation's top professionals in the Pro-Am event of the Lucky International Golf Tournament.

Representing Orinda Country Club will be Frank Brunk, Jr., Robert B. Murray, Don Doten, Earle Cunha, Ramsay Underwood, C. L. Emerson, Jr., Chuck Fry, and Dr. Robert D. Weyand.

Other entries include Jack Lackey, Jr., and Donn C. Sigerson, Diablo Country Club; Andy Maser, Round Hills Country Club; Don Fracchia, Richmond Golf Club; Bob Bell, Lynn Hames and Don Texdahl, Tilden Park Golf Club.

WITH APPARENT ease Len Ferro levels in a backhand shot from beneath the basket to help the Acalanes Dons rush ahead in their merry win over the Las Lomas Knights last Friday, 84-49. Rick Leach (25), Knights' center, was hoping for some rebound action.

99 Club Entries Compete in Golf

Ninety-nine entries representing 14 clubs recently competed in the Guest Day event sponsored by the Contra Costa Club's Women's Golf Association.

Mrs. Norman Macauley won with a low gross score of 79.

The Class A winner was Mrs. Kermit Coon with 87-14-73 while Mrs. J. R. Monneyppeny captured the Class B event with 87-18-69.

Mrs. Barney Weisinger won the Class C category with a score of 88-19-69. Other winners were Mrs. Joan Doane of Class D, Mrs. Arnold Grunke of Class E, Mrs. J. M. Sturman of Class F, Mrs. Arthur McMahon of Class G and Mrs. William Wood of Class H.

Scots, Mats Fight for League Tie

Dons Idle, But Hold Lead; Face Scots Next

The Acalanes Dons get a well-earned rest today but, nonetheless, their eyes will be focused on the potent Piedmont Highlanders.

And some time late this afternoon they'll know if Piedmont has soared into a tie with them in the Foothill Athletic League, or if they can breathe a little easier with the Highlanders a somewhat further down the ladder.

The Piedmont-Del Valle game is the only afternoon tilt. TONIGHT the Miramonte Matadors tangle with the Las Lomas Knights and Alhambra meets the San Ramon Wolves.

In DVAL's Contra Costa Division a neighborhood match takes place with the College Park Falcons entertaining the Pleasant Hill Rats.

Prior to today's tilts, Acalanes was leading the FAL with a 4-1 record with Piedmont snapping at the Dons' heels at 3-1.

And despite what happens tonight, the Dons will soon know just how good they are, insofar as the Highlanders are concerned, because next Tuesday afternoon they travel to Piedmont for what will undoubtedly be an important title-deciding match.

THERE were no games Tuesday but last Friday Acalanes had a breather by easily dumping Las Lomas, 84-49, while Piedmont lost a heartbreaker to the San Ramon Wolves, 45-44. The Dons set a school scoring record in the rout of Las Lomas.

While all attention has been focused on Acalanes and Piedmont, the Miramonte Matadors can't be overlooked.

They are currently tied with Piedmont for second place at 3-1, and a win over the Knights would push the mats into a first place tie.

Miramonte had no trouble defeating Alhambra, 52-41, last Friday.

Alhambra, on the other hand, has its work cut out tonight because the Bulldogs must cope with San Ramon, victors already of the Piedmont Scots.

INSOFAR as the Pleasant Hill College Park match is concerned, the Rams aren't going anywhere, sporting a 1-3 record, but for the Falcons a victory could mean everything.

At the moment College Park is in a three-way second-place tie with Clayton Valley and Mt. Diablo, each having a 3-1 record in league play.

A win tonight for College Park could conceivably give the Falcons undisputed second place, topped only by Antioch which is still undefeated.

Next Tuesday several tilts are scheduled besides the all-important match between Acalanes and Piedmont.

An excellent match will pit the San Ramon Wolves against the Miramonte Matadors while Alhambra will be at Del Valle.

Over in the DVAL's Contra Costa Division, Pleasant Hill will entertain Pacifica and College Park will visit Clayton Valley.

3 Games in 7 Days Face Viking Five

Three games in seven days return to their home court to face the Diablo Valley College Vikings while the Vikes scored on 26 of 58 tries. Last Friday night the Vikings Mickey Toner led four Viking players in double figures with 21 points and picked off 12 rebounds. Tom Strain was next high for Diablo with 15 points, with Rex Bankhead and Dick Scott piling in 10 points each. Elton McGriff led the Rams rattled the Rams who only connected on 24 of 84 field shots with 21 points.

Adult Education Program Attracts 2000 lanes adult education program art sections offered this quarter.

'Never Too Old To Learn'

This year, 2000 residents in the Acalanes Union High School District area (Canyon, Lafayette, Moraga, Orinda and Walnut Creek) will prove the adage "You're never too old to learn."

For more than 2000 citizens each year take advantage of the adult education program sponsored by the Acalanes High School District.

Ages of students in the adult program range from 18 to 90 years plus!

Pupils' interests run from students who are completing requirements for high school graduation to senior citizens who are learning new avocational skills to which they can devote their leisure and attention.

SINCE ITS founding more than 18 years ago, the Acalanes District adult education program has grown more than 250 per cent.

A faculty of approximately 70 instructors staff the adult day and evening program directed by principal Bill Teutschel.

Teachers on the staff comprise specialists in particular crafts, such as sewing, ceramics, and rug making, and include more than 25 teachers from the district's regular day program who are engaged in teaching adults academic subjects and shop skills.

Curriculum for the fall-winter quarter includes nearly 100 class sections devoted to more than 60 subjects. Registration is now open.

Interested in algebra, basic math, plane geometry, trigonometry, creative writing, public speaking, reading speed and improvement, U. S. history, conversational French, German, Italian, Spanish or Russian?

INTERESTED IN bookkeeping, income tax, investments, real estate, beginning, intermediate or advanced shorthand, typing?

Prefer doing something with your hands—like basic arts and crafts, rug braiding or hooking, floristry, jewelry making, lapidary, leathercraft, metal working, ceramics, or woodshop?

Or, would you rather do something in fine arts such as creative art and sculpture, figure study and drawing, landscape painting, portrait painting for beginners through advanced technique; homemaking courses in clothing, dressmaking, sewing from beginning through advanced, tailoring, landscape design, or interior decorating?

There are courses also for adults interested in piano, physical fitness, swimming, driver education, driver training, disaster survival, and safety with small boat handling. The cost—$2 per quarter.

THE ADULT EDUCATION course roster even includes a program for the visually handicapped, as well as instruction in transcribing braille materials for the blind.

The adult program makes nearly full use of regular day school facilities in addition to utilizing community public buildings whenever appropriate.

Commenting on the use of high school facilities by the adult program and other community groups, Acalanes High School District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons explained, "The extensive use to which the community puts the high school plants of the area demonstrates the 'community center' idea that enables taxpayer investment in school facilities to serve a wider purpose than use solely during the school day or school term."

Aside from funds taken from the Acalanes District tax rate to provide nominal plant maintenance and additional usage expenses, the adult program is supported primarily from state funds specifically allocated for adult education programs in California, and by the general registration fee and special charges required for enrollment in particular courses.

NATIONAL EDUCATION experts predict that with the age of automation, the economic need for every adult to have basic skills, and with the increase of leisure and parallel of expanding interest in avocational skills, education and formal schooling will be a continuous life-process even more than it is now.

For the several thousand citizens in the Acalanes High School District residential community, there is no "will be" to it—school and evening classes are as much a part of their regular lives as their daily work-a-day world.

PHOTOS BY DAVE OGDEN

BETTER INFORMED CITIZENRY as well as a high school diploma are the prime interests of Acalanes adult education students David MacDonald and Virginia Frumenti, as they review materials in the civics course (American Government) with teacher James Garvey (right).

MATH PROBLEMS can continue to be problems for students of all ages, as pupils Robert Ross and Al Million check their algebra solutions with instructor James Dagual. The course utilizes modern self-instructional teaching methods and individual assistance by the instructor.

SEW-IT-YOURSELF is the theme in 13 sections on sewing, tailoring and clothing offered in the adult program. Students interested in improving their sewing handicraft under the instruction of teachers such as Mrs. Florence Schultz (right) and students Florence Morris (left) and Zellian Kydalc.

Scouts Plan to Celebrate 53rd

Members of the 460 Scouting units in Mt. Diablo Council, which includes all of Contra Costa County, plus Berkeley and Albany in Alameda County, will celebrate the 53rd anniversary of the movement February 7 through 13, according to E. Morton Schaffran, council president. Following the theme, "Strengthen American... Be Prepared, Be Fit," the council's 15,273 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers, plus 6400 adult volunteers, will join nearly 5,200,000 other Scouts and leaders in very part of the nation in rededicating themselves to the Scout oath on February 8, the actual birthday of the movement in America.

During the past year more than 32,000 boys and adults were served in Mt. Diablo Council Scouting.

WINDOW DISPLAYS, under sponsorship of the B'nai B'rith Lodge, will feature Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring in each of the towns and cities of the council area, according to Igor Blake of Orinda, council activities committee chairman.

Cub Packs will conduct a "Blue and Gold Open House," a "pot luck dinner" with prospective members and their parents as guests.

Newly qualified Cub Scouts will be inducted. A skit, "How Scouting Began," will be put on by many packs. Others will feature patriotic aspects of the lives of Lincoln and Washington.

Parents' night meetings will be held by most of the Boy Scout troops. Displays of Scoutcraft will be shown and those who have progressed in rank will be honored at formal courts of honor.

EMERGENCY preparedness skills will be demonstrated by patrols, and patrol stunts, songs and games will precede a closing ceremony.

Explorers from the Explorer Posts and Sea Scout Ships will address boy and adult groups at high school assemblies, service clubs, church groups, PTA's and Boy Scout troops.

They will participate in Community Service Day activities in many areas, serving for a day in the office of a government official, industrial, professional, or commercial leader.

In some districts this will be climaxed by an evening dinner honoring the boys chosen for this experience.

Scout Sunday will be observed by special services in most churches on February 10, at which time Scouts will attend in uniform with their families. In a few churches the special observance will take place on February 3.

Shareholders to Meet in Richmond

Shareholders of the Richmond Teachers' Credit Union, with over 1500 members in the mid-county area alone, will meet today at the Civic Auditorium in Richmond.

On the agenda of the 14th annual shareholders' meeting are election of four board members, and two committees, according to Joy Abrams, president of the board.

The meeting will honor past presidents and the organization's "member of the year."

Language Barrier Works To 'Retard' Youngsters

Lack of experience with language is robbing Mexican-American children of their educational opportunities, according to research findings in East Contra Costa County schools.

Research Intern Jacqueline Rapier has reported to the County Board of Education that in the first place it is not possible to assess the real intelligence of Mexican-American children using the present IQ tests, because the conventional test, even when given in Spanish, does not break through the language barrier.

"It is not so much that the children do not comprehend English as that they are retarded in the use of language itself," Miss Rapier reports.

Her research reveals that Mexican-American children rated below average IQ "are more able to profit from special training sessions than a comparable group of Anglo-American with below average IQ's."

The study also uncovered evidence that Mexican-American children in the third grade are retarded to about kindergarten level in their ability to form concepts because of their arrested language development.

From this and other results of the study, the researcher concludes that it is important to give Mexican-American children special training as early as possible.

It is also important that tests now being developed to bypass the language barrier be improved, so that a realistic appraisal may be made of the Mexican-American child's intelligence, the intern explains.

In receiving the report, the board and members of the staff of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus discussed what the research findings mean to the schools.

"Unless the individual who comes from a language impoverished home can be assisted early enough and so catch up with his schoolmates, he falls increasingly farther behind and is apt to drop out of school in the eighth grade or high school. This tendency is often accentuated by the small importance attached to education in the home," Marchus said.

It was suggested that an intern in the office of the county superintendent be assigned to develop language drills. Also mentioned was the formulation of a special kindergarten-primary program for children with inadequate language development.

Not only children from ethnic minority groups would profit but also others in whom speech development was retarded, for whatever reason.

Miss Rapier has been engaged in research in the schools of Brentwood, Byron and Oakley Union School Districts and Knightsen School District for the past several years.

She is a candidate for a doctorate at the University of California and an intern in the County School Office.

An article by Miss Rapier on measuring intelligence appeared in a recent issue of a European journal of psychology, published in Holland.

In One Hour The Pup Had Disappeared

A male black and tan Dachshund pup suddenly disappeared from the home of Louise Petty, 4954 Concord Boulevard, Concord, one hour after The Sun published a single want ad offering the dog for sale. The black and tan was sold on the first call.

Two pair of skis with ski-free bindings and one pair of men's ski boots were sold with one Sun want ad by D. Peterson, 1210 Bacon Way, Walnut Creek.

And Mrs. William Foley reports selling her 1950 convertible with one Sun want ad. Mrs. Foley lives at 33 Dolores Way, Orinda.

These Sun "success stories" prove that a 5-in-1 Sun want ad is read by real buyers who act "right now."

They also prove that a single ad (14 words for only $1.60— even less for multiple runs) can save you valuable time when you have something to sell.

The reason: Sun want ads appear not only in the U. S. mails—delivered Sun Shopping News, but in four subscription newspapers as well: The Orinda Sun, The Pleasant Hill Sun, The Walnut Creek Sun and The Lafayette Sun.

This "5-in-1" coverage means immediate success for you. Call a Sun ad-writer today at 934-5000 or 284-4444.

Rheem Developer Heads Eastbay Builders' Group

Harold W. Smith, Rheem California Land Corporation executive, was installed recently as the 1963 president of Associated Home Builders of the Greater Eastbay.

The installation proceedings were held at the Hotel Claremont.

A director of the association for 10 years, President Smith of Diablo, is the vice president in charge of building operations for Rheem California Land Corporation.

The company has been developing an 1800-acre site in the Rheem, Contra Costa County area since 1955. They have been responsible for the development of the area and the business district of Rheem.

Present expansion plans call for 100 additional homes in the $25,000 to $60,000 range on 300 acres acquired from the Utah Construction Company. Some 300 homes in the $30,000 to $50,000 range already have been constructed in the 1800-acre area.

Currently, a branch of Crocker-Anglo National Bank and a large Safeway Store are being constructed in the Rheem business district.

Smith, who started his business career as a realtor, has twice been president of the Berkeley Realty Board, in 1949 and 1950.

He has been a regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association.

He also belongs to the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, Walnut Creek.

Since 1938, Smith has been engaged in the construction field, having specialized in building in Contra Costa County since that time.

Orindan Wins Sun's Coloring Book Contest

Mrs. C. F. Machek of 4 Corte del Rey, Orinda, was the winner of a year renewal to The Sun for winning The Sun's suburban coloring book contest.

The contest was open to everyone with a free year subscription going to the winning entry.

Mrs. Machek colored two of the four cartons with son David, 9, and daughter Susan, 5, each doing one.

Mrs. Machek was judged the winner by members of the editorial staff after all entries were considered.

Buchanan Field Apron Runways Work Finished

The Board of Supervisors accepted, as complete, the contract with Martin Brothers of Concord for construction of the Terminal Apron Extension and Taxiway "G" at Buchanan Field Airport. The cost of construction was $158,500, 54 per cent of which will be borne by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The major items of work performed consisted of constructing 1370 lineal feet of southerly extension to the terminal apron with tie-down anchors and caissons, and a connecting taxiway of 750 lineal feet. A storm drainage system was installed which consists of 2800 lineal feet of reinforced concrete pipe. Increased activity in air traffic coupled with an intensified interest by commercial developers has created needs for additional safety and tie-down facilities at this airport.

Name the Shopping News And Win a Trip to L.A.

YOU—as a reader of The Sun—can win two round-trip air fares to Los Angeles and books of tickets for Disneyland.

If you are a subscriber to either the Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun, Walnut Creek Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun, you can also win free air fare and tickets for all of your children.

Sounds great, doesn't it? Well, it is and there's hardly nothing to it.

All The Sun wants you to do is name its shopping news.

THE SUN wants to change the name of "The Sun Shopping News" which is delivered only on Wednesday—and you, as a reader, could benefit.

The contest opens today and will last for three weeks.

An individual can submit as many entries as he wants.

All you have to do is select a name and mail to "Name Contest," 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette.

All entries will remain sealed until the end of the contest. In case of a tie the earliest postmark will win. Employees of The Sun and their families are not eligible for the contest.

THE FINAL decision will be made by a panel of Sun staff members.

THE WINNER will receive air

Swiss 'Tour' Begins Series

Earl Brink, noted traveler and film producer, began a series of five YMCA "passports to world adventure" with his presentation of Switzerland, last week at Diablo Valley College.

Brink personally narrated his technicolor film on "The Roof-top of the World" before an audience of Y members and friends.

Tickets for the remainder of the series, four more films narrated by travelers and newsmen, are available at Worden Travel Service (Walnut Creek and Orinda) and the Students' Bookstore at DVC.

Next YMCA tour, February 14, will be the "The Changing Heart of Africa" via the films and narration of Arthur C. Twomey of the Carnegie Institute.

Remaining programs are: "Russia and Its People," March 11, narrated by American cameraman Raphael Green.

"Caribbean Ports of Call," narrated by Dwight Nichols.

"Inside East Germany," narrated by Robert Cohen.

White pelicans, reports the National Automobile Club, are one of our largest American birds. Their wingspread reaches nine feet.

Knox Seeks Nominee for State Maritime Academy

Preliminary examinations for admission to the California Maritime Academy at Vallejo began this month and will continue on the first Saturday of each month until May.

According to State Assemblyman John T. Knox, who announced the exam for young men in his 11th District, the exam is given at the academy at 9 a.m. The applicant with the highest passing score will be Knox's nominee for admission. Others who pass may be admitted if vacancies in the quota for the opening class exist.

THERE ARE no fees for the examination. Candidates may also take the college entrance examination board scholastic aptitude test and have the results sent to the academy.

The state-operated academy on Carquinez Straits provides, in three years, approximately the same education as the normal four-year college.

The graduate receives a Bachelor of Science degree in either nautical science or marine engineering and is licensed by the U. S. Coast Guard as an officer for service aboard U. S. merchant ships.

THOSE PHYSICALLY and otherwise qualified are eligible for commission in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

To be admitted to the academy the applicant must be, on August 12, 1963, a high school graduate, unmarried, at least 17 but not yet 22 years of age and must meet certain physical and mental requirements.

Those interested should contact Assemblyman Knox at 1016 Nevin Avenue, Richmond, as soon as possible.

Knox will choose a nominee under provisions of Senate Concurrent Resolution 81 of 1955, which says that each State Senator and Assemblyman representing an odd-numbered district may nominate a young man from his district for admission to the academy in 1963.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the Dean, California Maritime Academy, Vallejo, California.

Out of Gas? Then Try Oil

Contra Costa's booming natural gas industry has led to the discovery of the only commercial oil well in Northern California.

A gas well drilled for Shell, Occidental and Brazos oil companies several months ago ran out of gas recently and began producing oil in "commercial quantities."

The yield from the well in the Brentwood field, 50 barrels a day, is not as high as is commonly found, geologists said. There is no way to determine how long the oil will last.

"Brentwood remains primarily a gas field," one technician concluded, although the oil well is the only one of its size north of Coalinga.

Districts Will Share Election Costs: Ruling

A superior court case involving sharing of consolidated election costs has been resolved in favor of Contra Costa County, District Attorney John A. Nejedly announced recently.

Judge Wakefield Taylor ruled, Nejedly said, that the East Bay Municipal Utilities District and the A-C Transit District share election costs at the rate of $12 per precinct.

Costs of consolidated elections held in June and November of 1958 and November, 1960, were contested. Wakefield's ruling will force payment by EBMUD of over $16,000, by A-C of over $4000.

The two districts had consolidated election of directors in the three elections.

The county was represented by Deputy District Attorney Charles L. Hemmings, EBMUD by Frank E. Howard and A-C by Robert E. Nisbet.

Fortune Smiles on Joe

By JANE PUTNAM

Featured in this month's Fortune Magazine is a 10-page, full-color portfolio of photographs by Orinda's eminent photographer, Joe Munroe.

To look at the beautiful shots, illustrating innovations in farm equipment in California's agriculture, it would appear that Munroe had found an easy way to make a living! As with all works of art, Munroe's work has the look of simplicity about it.

For the Fortune portfolio alone, however, (shooting with Leica and Nikon F cameras) Munroe used 70 rolls of 35mm kodachrome film. With 36 exposures to a roll, this totaled 1120 pictures—from which the Fortune editors selected 17.

Another factor: 25 hours of long distance telephone calls before the final layout. Not to mention that he had to be an acro-track star on the cross-country team.

The Munroes' daughter, Ann, is married. The youngest, Bonnie, 7, attends Glorietta School.

MUNROE SAID that there were obvious advantages in being able to work out of one's home. Asked if there were disadvantages as well, he grinned: "Well, you wouldn't want me to go into that!"

He photographed Caryl Chessman on Death Row four times. There was always a reporter there, too, so Munroe's conversation with Chessman was limited. However, he found him to be a "brilliant fellow."

Frequently, Munroe takes photos for Time. He is one photographer in their "stable of stringers." Last week, he took a photograph of novelist David Stacton in Lafayette. This will be for a book review Time is planning on six young novelists in the U.S.

AFTER HE takes a news assignment, Munroe sends the entire roll of film to New York that same night via air mail.

Before deciding which shots to "blow up" for a layout, he often sends the publication a proof sheet of each shot on the roll.

"It's like being a coal miner. I go down in the mine, dig out the raw material . . . and let the editor decide what is of value," he says.

Quite a few of Munroe's story assignments are used in America Illustrated, the Russian-lan-bat and/or stunt man to get many of the shots.

ONE OF the most successful photographers in the business, Munroe is a regular contributor to Fortune, Time, Life, Farm Journal and Farm Quarterly (to mention a few). He has been assigned by, and published in, nearly every major publication in the United States.

The free-lancer works out of his home, 100 Estates Drive, Orinda. His wife Virginia studies painting. They have four children.

The eldest son, Leslie Munroe, is a diplomatic courier, working in the Asian region. He is based in Manila. Leslie is a graduate of George Washington University. Their second son, Dean Munroe, is a senior at Miramonte High School; and

Lafayette Man Named to Club

Leslie E. Petersen of 3330 Ridge Road, Lafayette, district representative for Lutheran Brotherhood, has been named to the Presidents' Club of the Minneapolis-based Fraternal Life Insurance Society.

Carl F. Granrud, president of Lutheran Brotherhood, said Petersen qualified for the club, one of the society's top sales honors, through his personal production of new business last year.

Petersen is a member of the Northern California general agency, headed by Lavern H. Peters of 621 Lancaster Drive, Lafayette.

Lutheran Brotherhood is one of the nation's largest fraternal life insurance organizations, with assets of about 239 million dollars and insurance in force of more than 1½ billion dollars.

guage magazine published in Washington, D.C. by the United States Information Agency. It is circulated in Russia under a reciprocal agreement with Russia's "USSR" Magazine.

A version of the Fortune portfolio will probably run in A.I. within the year.

OTHER RECENT examples of assignments which Munroe did for A.I. and now are in various stages of editing and publication are: a picture essay on rice growing; a work day in the life of a dairyman near Petaluma; the Center for the Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Palo Alto; and a tour of the central valley of California with the Russian agricultural minister and his party last October.

With Martin White, another Orinda photographer, Munroe did a movie for Professor Robert Karplus (also Orindan). It was taken in an experimental class in teaching physics to young children. This was under a National Science Foundation grant.

IN PHOTOGRAPHY since 1940, Munroe enlisted in the Air Force in 1943 to become a pilot. He wound up as a base public relations photographer.

After the war, he got a job with The Farm Quarterly Magazine. "They were looking for a photographer — cheap — who didn't have to know anything about farming," said Munroe. He remained with The Farm Quarterly for three years, and this publication is still one of his best clients. Munroe does a lot of work in the agricultural field.

From 1949-52, he was a field writer-photographer for the U.S. Information Agency. All through these years, he "moonlighted"—doing free lance assignments.

In 1952, he began free-lancing in editorial, advertising and industrial fields; and has done so full-time ever since.

Munroe studied with Ansel Adams, famed Monterey and Yosemite landscape photographer; and Arthur Siegal, of Chicago.

IN 1940, Munroe was elected an associate of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain. He is also a member of the American Society of Magazine Photographers.

He taught an advanced summer group at the San Francisco Institute of Art in 1961.

To shoot the cover of the spring issue of Farm Quarterly, Munroe was rope-tied in the partially filled "hopper" of a crop duster plane. Sitting on the dust, he wasn't worried about taking off like an astronaut; however, he did say that the 100-mile-an-hour wind on his back made him feel lightheaded.

A HOLLYWOOD STUNT man might turn pale at what Photographer Joe Munroe of Orinda did to take this shot. It will appear on the cover of The Farm Quarterly this spring. The shot illustrated to perfection the publication's planned review of "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson.

County Schools Tackle Teaching of Communism

Two "touchy" subjects—teach-county school department, according to Fontaine Weitzel, editor of the Contra Costa School Bulletin—are under study by the school as well as high school. The problem in teaching about communism, the editor said, "boils down to one of obtaining objective materials, for junior low a state guide, "Teaching

About Democracy and Communism," a product of state committees study. Because the state guide confines itself to recommendations for grades 10 and 11, however, "it is recommended that districts adopt policies regarding the treatment of controversial issues and material." Contra Costa County Curriculum Advisory Council has teamed up with the political science department of Diablo Valley College to review and recommend materials, editor Weitzel pointed out. Regarding the place of ethnic minorities in the schools, the editor wrote in the January bulletin: "The prime requisite is for school district policy on the education of minority groups, so that, as their numbers increase in the county, the angry debates that have developed elsewhere might be avoided."

Mayfair To Open Newest Store in PH January 31

Mayfair Markets' newest store, division manager, will open Thursday, January 31. The new store is located next to Irwin A. Schwartz, to Montgomery Ward in the Contra Costa Shopping Center, grand opening buys," he said.

The 20,000-square-foot super-market swells to 183 the number of Mayfair Markets operating in five western states.

HENRY HOLDEREGGER, a Mayfair veteran of many years, has been appointed manager of the new store.

Some of the features of the new Mayfair, according to Schwartz, will be: A complete liquor department featuring nationally known brands as well as private label beverages; full selection of gourmet foods; completely automatic meat packaging operation; large bulk candy selection; hundreds of free packages of refrigerated meat, produce and frozen food cases; wide variety of dietetic foods and the newest eye, pleasing pastel-colored fixtures.

One Launched This El Toro From Orinda

An eight-foot El Toro sailboat with Dacron sails was sold with only one Sun want ad by Mrs. R. F. Grah, 78 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Orinda.

Mrs. Sid Davidson, 8 La Salle Drive, Moraga, sold a genuine cowhide official punching bag with mountings with a single Sun want ad.

And a 20-gallon aquarium, with hood, filter, heater and pump was sold by J. Maltby, 1251 Springbrook Road, Lafayette, with a single Sun want ad.

The reason behind these familiar "success stories": Sun readers are newspaper readers with varied interests. Among them are some who want what you have to sell.

Not only does each Sun want ad appear in the 59,000-circulation Sun Shopping News, but also in four subscription newspapers: The Lafayette Sun, The Walnut Creek Sun, The Pleasant Hill Sun and The Orinda Sun.

A 14-word ad costs only $1.60—even less for multiple runs. A Sun ad-writer is ready to help you write your ad. Call one today at 284-4444 or 934-5000.

Diggings No Cause for Delay in Caldecott 3

While progress on Caldecott, thus far have been identified by Bore No. 3 is six to seven months behind schedule, discovery of prehistoric bones on the site is not expected to slow up work on the now-continuous tunnel.

"I estimate a completion by April of 1964," Clyde Turner, project manager of the Connolly and Graft contract, told The Sun recently. State resident engineer Irv Black, however, was less optimistic.

"Delays encountered during early portions of the project still have us more than six months behind," he said.

"THIS TUNNEL won't be completed until around June or July of next year," he predicted. Black stressed the fact that "behind schedule" is a tricky term in a complex construction project. "Much of this time could be made up, and the contractor seems to be working to this end."

He said the factors affecting progress of the tunnel were numerous, but that labor strikes and bad weather during the outside portions of the job were primary in the delay.

ONE FACTOR which will not slow construction is the recent discovery of prehistoric fossils in tunneling beneath Fish Ranch Road.

The three bones unearthed

Tractors kill about 1000 to 1200 persons a year in the United States.

To All UNION MEMBERS In CENTRAL CONTRA COSTA COUNTY and ADVERTISERS...

The Contra Costa Times (Green Sheet) of Walnut Creek has just won an NLRB election to remain non-union on December 12, 1962. After a six months attempt to organize the Times Mechanical Department, the Martinez Typographical Union No. 597, AFL-CIO has lost in this organizational campaign. The following item is a reproduction of the item as it appeared in the Contra Costa Times in the issue of December 14, 1962:

Times' Employees Reject Union

Formation of a union shop for mechanical employees of the Contra Costa Times was defeated by a 9-6 vote Wednesday. The vote was conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

There were 19 persons involved. Two were supervisors who did not vote and two votes were challenged, one by each side. The vote was on whether to join Martinez Local 597, International Typographical Union, AFL-CIO.

We ask you to patronize the following commercial shops and newspapers who have signed contracts with the Martinez Typographical Union, AFL-CIO:

Gazette, Martinez; Beacon, Concord; Miller Printing Co., Pittsburg; Ledger, Antioch; Post-Dispatch, Pittsburg; Transcript, Concord; Cito Print Shop, Antioch; Sun, Lafayette; Tri-City News, Rodeo; Monument Printing Co., Pleasant Hill; Acme Press, Walnut Creek; O. B. Pitman, Concord.

Come see the newest concept of Carefree home ownership

For scenic beauty of location... for climate... for prestige and convenience of address... for style and comfort... for ease of ownership... for all this and more, RHEEM TERRACE is unsurpassed!

At RHEEM TERRACE you enter into an exciting new way to live. You enjoy suburban luxury, including a swimming pool and a view which overlooks the beautiful Rheem Valley, noted for climate and for convenience of access. You gain all the pleasures and advantages of home ownership, without upkeep responsibilities and maintenance headaches. All-electric kitchens, wall-to-wall wool carpeting, scientific soundproofing, spacious floor plans are among the features. Thirty-six units to choose from: one, two and three bedrooms—priced from $13,500 to $23,950.

RHEEM TERRACE is on Moraga Road, one-quarter mile from Rheem Boulevard and Rheem Center shopping district. Drive out this weekend. You'll be glad you did!

Al, Ben, Dan, Doug and Tom: Read All About It

So far this month it's been Webster and Robert E. Lee. Paine and William McKinley important birthdates, the County Library can—and does, as a regular practice. But the auspicious month of January is a particularly arduous time for those librarians who sort and select reading material for the anniversaries of famous events. Nevertheless, for biographical material on these interesting men and account of the historical events in which they took part, your local library has the following volumes to recommend: Among the biographies are: "Gentlemen of Virginia by Marshall W. Fishwick; Ben Franklin, an Affectionate Portrait by Nelson Beecher Kayes; Profiles in Courage by John F. Kennedy; Affectionately, F.D.R. by James Roosevelt.
